Two Area Residents Killed in Accidents

Linda Stegelmeyer, 18, John C. Estes, 44, are Victims in Two Crashes

Two Granite City area residents died this week as the result of traffic accidents. The victims are:

Miss Linda Stegelmeyer, 18, of 2140 Harrison road, John C. Estes, 44, Sun Motel West Chain of Rocks road and Route 5.

Miss Stegelmeyer died at 8 p.m. Monday at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, of injuries sustained when an auto in which she was riding struck a utility pole on West Main street, Belleville, about 2:15 a.m. the same day.

The car door flew open, and she was thrown to the pavement, striking her head.

Driver of the auto, Jacquelyn Luberda, 18, of Belleville, told police she had seen a man standing in the center median and thought he was going to step in front of the auto. She said she applied the brakes and skidded into the pole.

Returning from a dance, Bath were taken to Belleville Memorial Hospital before Miss Stegelmeyer was transferred to St. Louis. Miss Luberda was treated for shock. Relatives said the two were returning from a dance when the accident occurred.

Miss Stegelmeyer, who resided with her sister, Diana Broadwater, was born in Granite City and was a graduate of Granite City high school. She was employed in the office of Laclede Steel Co. in Madison and was a member of the First Assembly of God Church.

Besides her sister, she is survived by her parents, Fred Stegelmeyer and Mrs. Madelyn Crouch, both of Granite City, and her grandparents, Mrs. Linda Stegelmeyer and Edwin Stegelmeyer, both of Granite City, and Mrs. Oly Evannoff of California.

Miss Stegelmeyer was to have been a bridesmaid on Aug. 9 for the wedding of Miss Diana Sicking and John Martinez.

An inquest is pending in St. Louis. An obituary notice appears elsewhere in this issue.

Production Shut Down by Strike At Nestle Plant

Production remained shut down today at the Granite City plant of Nestle Co., Inc., 2101 Adams street, as the result of a strike of 120 members of the International Association of Machinists, District 9, in a contract wage dispute.

The machinists who form the bulk of the company's work force walked off their jobs at midnight Monday with expiration of the union's old contract.

A company spokesman said plant operations were discontinued immediately after the strike began. The union set up picket lines at the plant's two entrances and railroad gate.

Wilbert Hemken, union business representative, said the strike was called after a last-minute rejection of a company offer.

Wages Major Issue

The union is requesting a wage increase of 10% for the first year and 8% for each of the following two years of a three-year contract. Hemken said the company has offered 7% for the first year and 5 1/2% for each of the following two years.

The union representative said that nearly all fringe benefit issues were agreed upon and that wages constitute the major point at issue.

No further meetings between union and company representatives had been set today. U.S. mediators sat in on final negotiating sessions and are expected to arrange any new contract talks.

Unions are requesting a wage increase of 10% for the first year and 8% for each of the following two years of a three-year contract.

Teacher Integration Ordered In Madison

Faculty Desegregation Must Start by Fall, Completed in 1970-71

JOHN C. ESTES

The Madison board of education must effect a total integration of teachers in all of the schools in the district by the beginning of the 1970-71 school year, according to a ruling issued in the U. S. district court at Springfield late Monday afternoon.

Fifty per cent of the integration program is to be instituted by the start of the coming school year, U. S. District Judge Robert D. Morgan ruled in a desegregation suit brought by the U. S. Justice Department.

Arguing for the school district, Atty. Lance Callis claimed that forcing teachers to transfer from their current positions would be in violation of the civil rights of individual teachers and against the state school code.

Judge Morgan disagreed, saying there was no conflict between the federal civil rights law and the school code. He did agree that some teachers might resign if they are transferred from their current positions.

Federal Funds

The district is to file an application for federal funds and other assistance in an effort to achieve a peaceful and smooth transition.

It was determined that funds for the purpose are available through the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, administered through the U. S. Office of Education.

Oil Slicks on River No Threat to Water Supply

Drinking water supplies in the Quad-City area are not expected to be affected by oil slicks on the Mississippi river caused by drainage of flood waters from oxidation pools at the American Oil Co. refinery in Wood River, water company officials told the Press-Record today.

A spokesman of the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. said chemists had reported no traces of oil at the company's intake system at Chouteau Island or at the Granite City pumping station, and that success in confining most of the oil within the refinery pools gives little cause to anticipate any trouble whatever.

The oil slicks apparently resulted when heavy rains flooded the oil company's oxidation pools which contain waste oil from the refinery.

One of the company's oxidation pools was flooded causing the oil water to flow into the river. In addition, he said, intake pipes are well below the surface of the water, while oil floats on top.

The levee board trustee said he had employed the R & H Spray Co. to apply chemicals which will be obtained by the levee district. He said about two days will be required to complete the rounds of the ditch and Doherty slough. Work was to begin today. In about a week, he said, the spray process will be repeated.

Hope of federal aid for flood relief in some sectors of the Quad-City area faded today after the office of Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie at Springfield rejected pleas that the flood-stricken sections be declared a disaster area.

William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice, Madison county member of the East Side Levee and Sanitary district, said negative response of state officials to requests for help on two occasions leaves the levee district and Granite City only one alternative—continued pumping operations in the Doherty slough area of Nameoki township and in the Cloverview area of Granite City.

Ebersoldt said pumping operations also were begun Tuesday in the Division street-Breckenridge lane area of Nameoki township, to drain impounded flood waters from that section into Long Lake at Pontoon Beach.

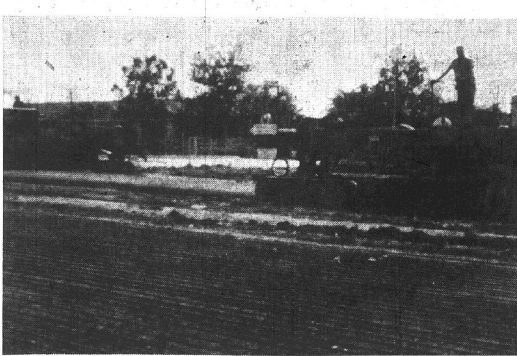

These three areas were the hardest hit by last week's heavy rains which overtaxed area drainage facilities and a stormwater sewer, sent Long Lake spilling out of its banks in some places and raised Horseshoe Lake to its highest level in many years. The high stage of Horseshoe Lake flooded

2nd Notices Mailed In Back Tax Drive

Second warning notices to 3500 delinquent taxpayers informing them that legal action will be taken if back personal property taxes are not paid have been mailed by the Madison county treasurer's new delinquent tax office.

Mailing of second notices followed collection of $7000 in delinquent personal property taxes as a result of first notices which were sent out three weeks ago. County Treasurer John Maeris said he was surprised at the response to the first mailing.

The new tax office will initiate suits against delinquents after the second mailing in an effort to collect $1,027,000 in unpaid personal taxes for the last ten years.

Air Conditioners, Golf Clubs Among Burglary Loot Here

Local burglars became more selective this week with the advent of the hottest weather of the year. Loot in 12 thefts reported to authorities included air-conditioner units and golf clubs.

A set of golf clubs, carrying bag and golf cart, valued at $35, were stolen between Saturday and early yesterday from a storage shed at the home of Don Harman, 25 Del Rio drive.

The owner told police at 9 a.m. Wednesday, the items, including nine irons, four woods, a putter and cart bag, were kept in the shed, located in his carport. There was no sign of forced entry, Harman said.

A gasoline-engine storm water pump was stolen from the foundation of a home at 3103 Maryville road, it was reported by Elmo Meyer, 2473 St. Clair avenue, at 7:20 a.m. Tuesday.

The hoses on the pump were cut and it was removed. The hoses on another pump also were cut but it was not taken. The pumps are owned by the American Rentals Co.

Mary Batson, 3117 Aubrey avenue, reported Monday that someone punched a hole in the rear screen door of her home while she was asleep in her basement during the night. Taken were a transistor radio valued at $30 and a combination transistor radio and record player valued at $30 and $10 in cash from a wallet.

A burglar entered the home of George Moore, 901 Main street, Venice, through a garage door, and escaped with a loot valued at $192. Venice police reported at 8:10 p.m. Monday.

Moore told officers that a woman's watch valued at $45, a radio worth $29 and two rings worth $18 were stolen.

Thieves stole six bales of copper wire valued at $8000 in a break-in at National Lead Co. It was reported Monday.

The bales, about 3x2x4 feet, weighed 2000 pounds each. The thieves apparently drove a truck to a loading dock where they took five bales, then entered the building.

Flooded Areas To Be Sprayed For Mosquitoes

Fearing a plague of mosquitoes because of standing flood waters during the past week, special arrangements were made today to spray the entire length of the Nameoki drainage canal and in the Doherty slough area in Nameoki township, according to William "Mike" Ebersoldt, Madison county member of the East Side Levee and Sanitary district.

Ebersoldt warned parents of children living in the vicinity of Doherty slough or along Nameoki township to keep their children out of the area because double-strength chemicals will be used.

"Contact with the chemical possibly could prove to be an irritant and youngsters should be kept away from the ditch and out of weeded areas around Doherty slough," Ebersoldt said.

Hearing Reset July 25 For New Village

A hearing on petitions for incorporation of the proposed village of Chain of Rocks has been reset for 10 a.m. on Friday, July 25, in the circuit court at Edwardsville.

The hearing originally had been for tomorrow, but was rescheduled yesterday by Judge Howard White of Jersey county who is to conduct the hearing. Judge White told County Clerk Eulalia Hotz that he had other cases set for tomorrow.

The petition calls for a special election to incorporate 437 acres of Chouteau township as a village to include areas west of Mitchell-Sunny Del Acres and a portion of Gene Acres on either side of West Chain of Rocks road on the east side of the Chain of Rocks canal.

A similar proposal was defeated early last year by a vote of 657 to 88.

Meeting both Monday and Tuesday nights, the board hired Attorney Harold G. Baker Jr. as its special counsel in regard to teachers Monday and then the next evening conferred with him and adopted the pay levels and fringe benefits it had offered May 27.

Budget and tax levy planning is to proceed based on the proposal that was approved Tuesday, with tentative budget action in August and final enactment in September.

Seek Talks by Aug. 8

Noting that the union has suggested that negotiations be held in July, the board resumed Aug. 22, the school board Tuesday called on Local 743 to resume the talks "at least two weeks" before Aug. 22.

The board also voted to reply to a telegram from David Selden of New York, president of the American Federation of Teachers, and ask that he make every effort to reach an agreement with the Granite City Federation of Teachers.

Permit Resignations Until July 25; Offer Is Adopted by Board

Asserting that it has offered a $1,422,575 raise for the 1969-70 year, the board urged teachers not to resign but said they have until next Friday, July 25, to do so.

Faculty members normally must withdraw by June 26 (two months before the start of the school year, Aug. 26) and the board ruled that it will accept resignations through 4:30 p.m. next Friday retroactively to June 26. It said a single letter "resigning" for all members of Teachers Local 743 was "a nullity and has no legal force and effect whatever."

Action was withheld Tuesday on replacement of 24 windows in the GCHS auditorium stage area.

The city was given permission to create a ditch at a corner of the Marshall grade school campus to permit an alleyway to be connected with a surface storm drainage line.

Bricklayers Local 65 is continuing to maintain informational picket lines at the city hall in Granite City, advising residents of its stand that the city street department does not conform to area standards of employment.

The city hall picketing began on the night of July 7, after an informational picket had been placed for several weeks at the city street department garage at 18th and Benton street.

Bricklayers Business Agent Paul Zupen has appeared several times this year at city council sessions requesting employment of a bricklayer for the street department or for the city to contract for brick work so that bricklayers would be doing the jobs.

The work of the street department being protested involves repairs or building manholes and catchbasins.

Council members have advised the agent they prefer for the work to remain with the regular crews of the street department. Poured concrete manholes and catchbasins also are planned by the city.

Zupen noted the Bricklayers have done much gratis work for the city, including volunteer work on the city's animal shelter building and the police department firing range. The animal shelter is still in use, but the firing range was cut in half by the right-of-way for Federal Aid Route 151 through the city.

Major Airport in Madison County Backed by Board

The Madison county board of supervisors unanimously endorsed development of a major metropolitan airport in the county during its meeting Wednesday morning in the courthouse at Edwardsville.

The resolution did not specify a location but said that the airport would be "desirable and advantageous" to the county.

It was presented by the board's special airport committee headed by William Straube of Edwardsville. Copies are to be forwarded to U. S. and Illinois representatives and officials and to the Federal Aviation Agency to assure them of the cooperation of the county in the endeavor.

Locations Considered

Among county locations under consideration are the area of Lakeside airport and land in Pin Oak township near Troy. Most residents of Pin Oak township are opposed to the use of agricultural lands for the purpose there.

Meanwhile the Southern Illinois Building Trades Council has announced that there would be no work stoppages on an airport project if it is located on the Illinois side of the Mississippi River.

They also endorsed the idea of tying a new metropolitan airport to a complex of rail, water, air highway and pipeline transportation facilities.

During the meeting the county board created four additional voting precincts for Namechoi township. Old Precinct No. 1 was split three ways while Precinct Nos. 2 and 3 were divided into two. The township now has 11 precincts.

Tax Reports

The board's tax committee reported that the county gained $21,553 in tax objection cases which were overruled in circuit court in June, while $352 in objections was sustained. Cases with amounts totaling $13,278 in objections for the period of 1950 to 1955 are still pending.

Marshall Smith, assistant state's attorney, told the board that his office hopes to have the backlog of such cases cleared by the end of December. In the future, large industrial and railroad tax objection cases can be heard without having to wait a number of years pending action on other cases, he said.

Gilbert Küllinger, tax committee chairman, reported that $171,482 in delinquent real estate taxes have been collected by an outside agency under a contract.

He added that the new county program of collection of delinquent personal property taxes was started June 14 with the mailing of 3000 notices, and fewer than 200 have been returned by the post office with wrong addresses.

Radio Equipment

The Civil Defense committee was authorized to call for bids for six mobile portable radio units and to install a remote control unit in the courthouse where an unused transmitter is located, and for a receiver to permit daily communications with the state Civil Defense department.

The board approved a mental health allotment for August of $20,726, including $7933 for the Quad-Cities center.

The liquor control committee reported that $32,785 in liquor licenses has been collected from January through June and has been turned over to the county treasurer.

Million Dollar Grant for SIU Study Program

Southern Illinois University-Carbondale campus has received a million dollar grant from the U. S. Agency for International Development in support of its Center for Vietnamese Studies and Programs, the first of its kind in American Higher Education.

Formal announcement of the grant, which spreads funds over a five-year period of basic development for a center of competency in the areas of teaching, research, and service, was made in the Washington, D. C., office of Everett McKinley Dirksen, U. S. Senator from Illinois.

Earlier, in a speech to the Senate, the senior Illinois Senator said it is essential that the nation begin now to consider the needs for the reconstruction of Vietnam. "Unfortunately," he said, "there has been no major university in the country carrying forward a specialized program dealing specifically with Vietnam even though we have spent more than $100 billion and lost more than 35,000 lives in that country."

Official announcement of the grant was made jointly by Senators Dirksen and Charles Percy and Congressman Kenneth J. Gray, Melvin Price and George Shipley, all of Illinois. Representing A.I.D. were John A. Hannah, A.I.D. administrator, Rutherford M. Poats, Joseph A. Mendenhall, and Erven J. Long. The University was represented by President Delyte W. Morris, Chancellor Robert MacVicar of the Carbondale Campus and William Tudor, and Alfred J. Jones of the SIU Area and International Services. The Center, approved by the SIU Board of Trustees and the Illinois Board of Higher Education, was described by Ralph Ruffner, SIU vice-president for Area and International Services, as "a natural outgrowth of the University's eight years of service in technical assistance projects in Vietnam financed by the Agency for International Development."

State Truck License Deadline Is Extended

The Secretary of State's Office announced today that the deadline for displaying new truck plates has been extended from midnight, July 15, to midnight, July 31.

The reason for the extension is the shift this year for truck licenses from a calendar year to a fiscal year basis. Because of the change, truck owners, especially individual owners, unfamiliar with the new rules have been late in applying for their new licenses.

The Secretary of State's Office said that the move was made as a courtesy to truck owners.

MORE ABOUT Teacher

Illinois equal education opportunities act. After concluding during a morning session of the hearing that segregation did exist, Judge Morgan called off further arguments at 12:05 p.m. and set a 2 1/2-hour recess to give the Justice Department and the school board an opportunity to agree to an integration program.

The government had wanted complete integration of the faculty by September. The school district asked for a three-year transition period to complete the program because of problems involved, including education and availability of teachers. The district previously complained of lack of sufficient qualified Negro applicants.

The Justice Department compromised in calling for a 50% quota of Negro teachers. Next year, and Judge Morgan agreed to that proposal.

According to the plan, each of the six schools in the district will have a staff composed of 90% white teachers and 40% Negro teachers, regardless of the racial makeup of students in the individual schools.

Previously, only the high school was integrated, while Harris and Louis Bae grade schools and the junior high school had a faculty composed of white teachers and Dunbar Blair elementary schools had a Negro faculty.

The court order will involve transfer or reassignment of about 33 teachers.

Judge Morgan agreed that the district's negotiations with the Justice Department was John Gitchoff, school board attorney. Judge Morgan agreed that some flexibility will be permitted under the order because of the teacher shortage and other problems, but said that he would retain jurisdiction in the case should there be further problems of reassignment of teachers to comply with the order.

During the morning hearing, Raymond Dragich, superintendent, testified that the district had no policy for placement of teachers. John Belfor, former board president, agreed that there had been no policy assigning teachers on the basis of race, color or creed.

Court Order read, in part:

"Race or color shall not be a factor in the hiring, re hiring, assignment, reassignment, transfer, promotion, demotion or dismissal of faculty and professional staff members, including principals and substitute teachers, except that affirmative consideration may be given to race as a factor in correcting the effects of prior racial discrimination."

The defendants shall assign full-time classroom teachers so that the ratio of Negro to white teachers assigned to each elementary school in the district shall be approximately the same as the overall ratio of Negro to white teachers in the district's elementary schools as a whole.

"Fifty per cent of this goal shall be accomplished as expeditiously as possible by the school year and the ultimate objective, as defined above, shall be accomplished as expeditiously as possible and in any event not later than the commencement of the 1970-71 school year."

Troy Area Opposed as Major Airport Site

More than 150 residents of the Edwardsville-Troy area voiced objections Tuesday night to location of a major metropolitan airport on a proposed site near Troy at the junction of Interstate Routes 55 and 70.

The site is one of three on the Illinois side of the metropolitan region under consideration for a second major airport to ease air traffic at Lambert-St. Louis Field.

Meeting in the Madison County Fair Bureau building at Edwardsville, the group said it had organized as "Concerned Citizens of Pin Oak Township" to let responsible officials know of community opposition to the Edwardsville-Troy site.

While most of those present spoke out against location of the airport in their area because it would destroy the scenic, historic and esthetic value of the district, one member of the audience, William Nichols of Granite City, spoke in behalf of an airport, regardless of where it eventually may be located.

After being flying for 23 years and I know how badly we need a new airport," Nichols told the meeting. "I'd like to see it in the Lakeview area (near Granite City) but I don't care where it goes so long as we get it over here."

Nichols owns Lakeview Airport as well as land in the Horseshoe Lake area, and has been active in airport development projects.

Arnold Buecher of Edwardsville, chairman of the newly formed opposition group, said a petition signed by 70 residents of the area at an organizational meeting two weeks ago had been sent to Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie. Another petition was circulated at the Tuesday night meeting and signed by most of those present.

The Troy site involves about 8000 acres of land, most of it farmland.

Ronald Criley, an alderman on the Troy council, told the group he wanted to make it clear that the council has not gone on record supporting Wendell Durr, Edwardsville attorney who first proposed the Troy location in Pin Oak township and who has spearheaded the effort to have it chosen as the airport site. Durr is the Troy city attorney.

Dr. Emil Jason, an associate professor in chemistry at Southern Illinois University-Southern campus, said an international airport in the proposed Troy location in Pin Oak township "would be disastrous."

He said noise from jets and other planes would disrupt studies and that recruitment of instructors for the university would be handicapped by the airport because of its effect on the availability and desirability of residential living.

Water Rate Increase Hearing Set Aug. 13

An Aug. 13 hearing has been scheduled in Springfield by the Illinois Commerce Commission concerning its recent order suspending proposed water rate increases by the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co.

The bureau sought to put a new schedule of rates into effect July 25, calling for a 47% increase, but the ICC suspended the proposal.

The suspension paves the way for public hearings in which the water company will be required to justify the increase.

The council now is to be known as Cahokia Mound Council of Boy Scouts of America. It formerly was Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The council office is at 1338A Niedringhaus avenue.

Man Charged After Parked Car is Hit

David R. Tackert, 217 Delmar avenue, was charged with duty upon striking an unattended vehicle at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, in connection with an accident at 1928 Adams street, involving a parked auto owned by Bessie Gibson, 2543a Benton.

Police said that a disturbance at the Adams street address, in which both motorists were involved, may have led to the accident. Both vehicles sustained minor damage.

Mrs. Rosenberg Improving

Mrs. Lela Rosenberg, 2864 Chicago street, continues to improve at St. Elizabeth Hospital where she underwent major surgery the past week.

was thankful for the coverage and support of the Press-Record and the appeal made there for a show of community attitude in support of the project.

"I appreciated greatly the apparently untiring and unselfish efforts of several community leaders who have worked hard over a period of years in behalf of the proposal."

especially Mr. Henry Karandjoff, who has served as president of the Horseshoe Lake Commission for many years and who has donated a great deal of time and effort to the proposition.

"The bill that calls for the creation of 'Horseshoe Lake State Park' is now before the governor awaiting his signature. There is a definite connection between the two issues described above; There is little question that Horseshoe Lake is important in the Hillside Drainage system and so cooperative effort between the various agencies involved will be necessary. I'm confident this will happen, to the best interests of not only area residents, but to the state of Illinois as well."

for your involvement in the activities of your community. Good government doesn't begin in Springfield or in Washington, but in the neighborhoods of your community."

In every community, in these complex times, when problems seemingly get worse and descend around us despite our best efforts, the moral and physical participation of every citizen is needed as it has never been needed before in history."

Met Governor's Aides

Ebersold conferred in Springfield Monday afternoon with Governor's aides for the second time within a week in an effort to have the Doherty slough, with the Angela drive and Cloverview subdivision declared a disaster area. Such a declaration would have cleared the way for an emergency federal grant to assist in drainage facilities for those sections. The levee board trustee said he was referred on both occasions to Civil Defense officials who told him they had no money.

Without the disaster area designation, Ebersold said, no federal money for flood relief at this time. Ebersold said he has conferred several times with Cong. Kevin P. Connelley (D-East St. Louis) concerning possible federal aid and that Cong. Price, in turn, had investigated all possible sources without success.

Six pumps are in operation in the Doherty slough-Cloverview area. The pumps are being operated by the levee board trustee and three by Granite City. With one additional eight-inch pump operating along Division street, Ebersold said that despite the high cost of pumping operations and the fact that "it may take a month" to drain Doherty slough to a reasonable level, he is making arrangements to continue pumping work.

Cost of $1000 a Day

The levee board trustee estimated daily combined cost of pumping work by both the levee district and the city at $1000 and said the levee district already had spent nearly $15,000 in pumping operations since it began efforts to lower the level of Doherty slough on July 3, three days before the week-long rains of 6.74 inches hit the area.

Doherty slough, a critical drainage problem in the New Haven area, has for the past two years, covers a large section of the subdivision and surrounds a number of homes where water is seeping into basements and threatens to damage basement structures. The flooded slough also prevents drainage of the area around Lynch avenue and Vesel streets in Cloverview since the Lynch avenue stormwater sewer that serves the area empties into the slough.

Mayor Donald Partney of Granite City said he favors plans for a new drainage outlet in the Cloverview and Doherty slough area and that he believes federal funds for such a project would be available. He said he expects to initiate such a project as soon as the present emergency is past and probably will work with the levee district and Nameoki township in mapping the program.

Horseshoe Lake continued to recede slowly today since the Cahokia drainage canal is the only outlet for draining the lake waters, the levee district's North pumping station in East St. Louis where it is pumped into the Mississippi. The high water stage which has resulted around-the-clock pumping also has slowed the drainage work.

Price-Support Rates For Soybeans Listed

County price-support rates for the 1969 soybean crop were announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and M. Lee Rogers, manager of the Madison county ASC office at Edwarsville.

Rates for the counties reflect the national average support price of $2.25 per bushel, No. 1 grade, for 1969-crop soybeans which was announced last March 6. This compares to last year's rate of $2.50 per bushel, No. 2 grade.

Many county rates reflect only the difference in relative national loan averages between 1968 and 1969. Some reflect an additional one or two cents up or down from that relative level.

Due to the change from a No. 2 grade basis to a No. 1 basis, a new premium and discount schedule is in effect for the 1969 crop. It more nearly matches that used by the trade and will simplify program operations, making program pricing more nearly comparable with market prices based primarily on No. 1 grade.

The national average loan level of $2.25 per bushel is for soybeans containing 12.8 to 13% moisture and grading not lower than No. 2 on the factors of test weight, splits and heat damage, and No. 1 on all other factors.

Paint Sprayed on Car

Announce Plans For $22 Million 'Family Center'

Plans for construction of a $22.5-million family entertainment center near Eureka, Mo., in St. Louis county were announced today by the Great Southwest Corp. of Dallas, Texas, during a press conference arranged by the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce.

The entertainment center, to be built on a 500-acre tract, will be known as "Six Flags Over Mid-America" and will provide entertainment for children and adults alike including amusement park type rides and concessions. Construction will follow a historic theme, according to Angus Wynne, president of the Great Southwest Corp. who made the announcement.

He said construction will start soon and opening is anticipated for early 1971. All work will be completed before the center is opened, he said. The center will be designed to accommodate up to 30,000 visitors a day.

Edwin S. Jones, president of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, hailed the project as a tremendous economic asset for the metropolitan area on both sides of the river, pointing out that it would attract many thousands of visitors each year and "bring fresh money into the area economy."

Lawrence K. Roos, supervisor of St. Louis county, told the conference he was "thrilled to welcome such a venture to St. Louis county."

The six flags that will symbolize the project include the American, Illinois and Missouri flags, with the historic theme marked by the flags of Great Britain, France and Spain.

The major division all-stars will play their first tournament game against Herrin all-stars at 8 p.m. Friday in Herrin, with the winner advancing to a 7:30 p.m. Saturday game in Herrin.

Regional Tourney Here To End This Weekend

Eight softball teams are still vying in the Granite City slow-pitch regional tourney after seven teams were eliminated last weekend.

Final games of the double elimination meet will take place in Worthen Park Saturday and Sunday, with Bekin's Van Lines and Rozycki Realty remaining in the winner's bracket and B&A Confectionery B&E Planning Mill, Mexican Club, Holiday Mobile Homes, Zips and Sammy's Tavern still fighting in the once-beaten bracket.

The three best teams in the GC regional and the defending state champs, Clark's Vikings of Granite City, will compete in the Illinois Amateur Softball Association tournament in Champaign-Urbana Aug. 1-10.

The schedule:
Saturday—B&A vs. B&E, 2:45 p.m.; Zips vs. Sammy's, 4 p.m.; Holiday vs. B&A-B&E victor, 5:15; Mexican vs. Zips-Sammy's victor, 6:30; Bekin's vs. Rozycki, 7:45; and Holiday-B&A-B&E victor vs. Mexican-Zips-Sammy's victor, 9 p.m.

W&W Confectionery eased past Tri-City Cue 10-9, B&E downed Caton's 7-4 and the Steelers steamrollered Miles Lab 13-2 in Southern division softball at Worthen Park Tuesday.

Tri-City led 9-1 until W&W gathered nine runs on 11 hits and four errors in the fifth and sixth innings. Dave Tuka had four hits, including two doubles.

B&E's hitting edge of 17-8 was too much for Caton's Jim Becker slugged two doubles and a triple.

The Steelers scored in every inning, garnering 18 hits and committing no errors. Miles erred three times and was held to six hits. Ed Burlison was 4-4 and Chuck Feltmeyer 3-3 with a double, and Jim Smith and Ron Proffitt each homered for the winners.

Differ on Length of Pact

The board has sought a three-year pact, including pay levels for the first two years and an opportunity to renegotiate salaries in the third year. Local 743 is seeking a one-year working agreement.

There were regular negotiating sessions in February, March, April and May between six-member and seven-member teams representing the faculty and the board and administration. Tentative agreement was reached on many of the points.

In its letter to all teachers, sent by certified mail with return receipts requested, the board yesterday included salary schedules for 1968-69 and listed what is proposed for the next three years, matching the schedules in a way that they would apply to each teacher.

The charts show progress from first to third year of experience, sixth to eighth year.

The schedules included a cost-of-living increment, already known to be $16 ($160 for nine months) for 1969-70, since it is based on the national economy in 1968-69.

Examples of Pay Offer

A bachelor degree teacher in his first year in 1968-69 drew $669 a month and would rise to $816 this fall and $916 the following fall, the board's charts showed.

An instructor with a master degree and 190 college credit hours in his tenth year in 1968-69 received $1075 monthly and would get raises to $1333 this fall and $1444 in 1970-71 under the board's offer.

Text of the letter sent yesterday by the board to all members of the teaching staff follows:

"On June 26, Robert L. Johnson, purporting to act on your behalf, delivered to the secretary of the board of education a document which he claimed is your resignation as a certificated employee of this school district effective as of that date. Such action of Mr. Johnson was a nullity and has no legal force and effect whatever. It may be, however, that you, as an individual, did intend to resign effective June 26. If so, you should so advise Mr. Donald Stucke, secretary of this board, in a written notice addressed to him at the above address."

"Such notice, if you send it, should be delivered or mailed in sufficient time so that it is received by the secretary before 4:30 p.m. Friday, July 25, 1969. If such a notice is received from you, the board of education will accept your resignation effective as of June 26, 1969."

Written Notice Required

"If the board of education does not so receive a written notice from you, you will be deemed not to have resigned and you will be subject to a contract for your services for school year 1969-1970 which, as you know, will begin on Aug. 26."

"Before you respond to this letter, you will want to study the salary schedule for 1969-1970 and 1970-1971, which have been tentatively adopted by the board. A copy of the schedules is enclosed."

"From those schedules you will note that every degree employee who taught in this district last year will receive, in the first year, a minimum increase of $1325 in his gross salary, which means an increase of living allowance and the increment."

"This represents a percentage increase in salary, at the minimum, of more than 20%."

"First-year increase for persons who were at the top step of the 1968-1969 schedule will be $1975. A person who was on the 11th step of the M.A. column of the 1968-1969 schedule will receive a first year increase of $2625."

"The 1970-1971 schedules would provide a minimum additional increase of $650 per employee, plus the increment. And, of course, a further 1970-1971 increase will result if there is an increase in cost of living."

Competitive Pay Offer

"You should also know that such schedules are competitive with other school districts in Madison and St. Clair counties."

"Although such salary schedules were first proposed by our negotiating team prior to final legislative action on the increase of state aid, they were proposed in full expectation and hope that the state formula would be increased to at least $320 as was done."

"We estimate that, as a result of the state aid increase, this school district will receive an additional $1,845,187. We also estimate that, as a result of the increases in the enclosed schedules, the cost to the district of 1969-1970 salary increases will be $1,421,573."

"None of the foregoing figures of the cost of the increases include any computations for the fact that, for 1970-1971, we will be hiring 40 to 50 new teachers to staff new buildings."

Insurance Improvements

"In addition to the substantial increases in actual salaries, the board of education has also tentatively approved an improvement in the insurance program. Under the change, dependent spouses and children would be insured for hospital, medical and surgical benefits at the expense of the school district."

"In addition, each certificated employee would receive $2500 life insurance at the expense of the school district."

"There are other improvements in your working conditions which the board has tentatively approved, e.g., increases in sick leave accumulation, increases in accumulated earned absences allowances, etc."

"Under date of May 27, 1969, we sent each certificated employee a copy of the proposed 1969-70 working agreement. If you did not receive yours, we will mail you, upon request, another copy."

"We hope and trust that you, particularly after you examine your salary and working conditions, will not resign. But if you feel you must, please remember to notify the secretary of the board of education before 4:30 p.m. July 25."

Extra Holiday at Depot To Watch Moon Landing

Granite City Army Depot letter carriers will be given the day off.

Banks will remain open, however, as will most business places. City hall employees said today they had received no word that city offices would be closed. Mayor Parney could not be reached for comment.

The county courthouse at Edwardsville will remain open, although County Board Chairman Harold Landolt said that he would have liked to close county offices for the day. Landolt said the circuit judges requested him not to close the courthouse, however, because a large setting of criminal and civil cases is scheduled to open Monday and a large number of jurors is to report on that day.

Fake Caller Again Plagues GC Couple

Bombarded with unwanted service calls two weeks ago in answer to fraudulent telephone messages requesting services from Press-Record advertisers, a similar experience yesterday indicates that harassment of the same Granite City couple is not yet over.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Brewer, 1104 West Pontoon road, the objects of a malicious troublemaker earlier this month, were visited at their home Wednesday by a Press-Record advertiser in response to the couple's request for purchase and installation of a swimming pool.

The salesman said that a man representing himself as Bill Brewer called him Monday evening and made an appointment to pick up the couple at home yesterday for the purpose of selecting the right-size pool.

The fake caller also told the swimming pool contractor that Mrs. Brewer had recently inherited a considerable amount of money, enabling the couple to have a large pool installed. The story is completely untrue, Mrs. Brewer stated.

Granite City B&PW Holds 50th Anniversary Reception At Elk's Club

Pride and Promise—pride in a half century of achievement and promise of even greater accomplishment as career women in the future—was the theme of the Golden Anniversary Day celebration, observed last evening by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, 1126 S. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary; the United Baptist Church; Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce and is past president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs which was founded in July 1919 in St. Louis. The local chapter was formed two years later on Nov. 4, 1921, by 23 charter members.

Mrs. Clara Needles, a prominent local club woman first suggested meeting with the East St. Louis B&PW Club on Oct. 12, 1921, and it was after the initial session that the Granite City group was organized with the assistance of the East St. Louis members.

The original membership of 23 soon was increased to 100 members, with a waiting list established, as required in the club by-laws. The Granite City branch was affiliated with the B&PW state and national federations on April 7, 1922.

A five-point program, adopted at the club's inception and followed without change throughout its 48-year history, reads: "The organization was designed to promote the interests of business and professional women; to bring members into a relation of mutual helpfulness; to stimulate cooperation among business women; to unite them in thinking groups for service in the advancement of their cause, and that of other women; and to do whatever possible for the advancement of their community."

The Granite City club, with a current membership of 115 women, is headed by Mrs. Gordon (Emylee) Alford, cashier bookkeeper at Reliable Loan Corp., 1900 State street, who follows closely in the footsteps of the chapter's 30 preceding presidents by maintaining an active interest in all community activities and affairs throughout a career woman and homemaker.

Only six of the chapter's 31 presidents were unmarried and four of these held office in consecutive years from 1923 to 1929. The current president previously served as postmaster at Delmar, Ark., for eight years and was elected first vice-president of the National League of Postmasters, resigning both positions upon moving to Granite City in 1955.

A recent survey of local B&PW members disclosed the average Granite City member takes an active part in three other organizations, in addition to her B&PW membership.

Mrs. Alford has served many hours as a volunteer in various capacities, including service in the St. Elizabeth Hospital Coffee Shop. She has also worked diligently in United Fund campaigns, March of Dimes and Heart Fund drives and in the hospital's fund-raising campaigns.

Other B&PW officers are similarly active. Mrs. Glen (Lillie) Chaboudou, first vice-president, is a teller at the Bank of St. Louis; Mrs. Brooks (Pauline) Weir, second vice-president, is auditor at the Granite City Army Depot and active in U. S. Savings Bonds drives; Mrs. John (Dorothy) Nemmer, recording secretary, is office supervisor at the Name-oki township general offices and secretary to the township board of auditors; Mrs. Claude (Opal) DuVal, corresponding secretary, is former co-owner and operator of the Rose Bowl restaurant; and Mrs. Irvin (Rebecca) Slate, treasurer, is employed as an item manager by the U. S. Army Mobilization Equipment Command in St. Louis.

Present board members include Miss Hetty Sheppard, business agent, Retail Clerk's Union; Mrs. James (Verna) Lengyel, employed in the payroll division at Granite City Steel Co.; Mrs. Fred (Marion Rose) Lambert, a cosmetologist for Lady Catherine Cosmetics; Mrs. Charles (Lily) Marzful works in the printing department of A. G. Edwards & Sons; Mrs. Calvin (Bonnie) Lazenby, is a bridal consultant and co-owner of Lazenby Photographers and Mrs. Sylvia Wright, a supervisor at Midwest Curtain Factory.

Occupations of club members are equally as varied and interesting. Earlier presidents have included school teachers, a business investment counselor, an interior decorating and lighting consultant; a librarian; a store owner; and a newspaper correspondent.

The club's first president was Mrs. Dorothy Baenger 1921-22.

Other top executives included Miss Pearl Rosenberg 1923-24; Miss Dorothy Ranft, 1925-26; Miss Daisy Pick, 1927-28; Miss Dorothy Kleffman, 1929-30; Mrs. Pearl Ryckman, 1931-32; Mrs. Mildred Davis, 1933; Mrs. Jeane Reismay, 1934; Mrs. Blanche Fearing, 1935-36; Mrs. Ruth Weston, 1937-38; Mrs. Mary Mortensen, 1939; Mrs. Pearl Barnfield, 1940; Mrs. Loretta Etheridge, 1941-42; Mrs. Irene Hill, 1943-44.

Mrs. Pearl Ryckman, 1945; Mrs. Loretta Etheridge, 1946; Miss Morena Groshing, 1947-48; Miss Winifred Costello, 1949; Mrs. Elvira Thurber, 1950-51; Mrs. Irene Hill, 1952-53; Mrs. Margaret Beard, 1954; Mrs. Irene Hickman, 1955-56; Mrs. Ruth Fuxel, 1957-58; Mrs. Delores Alt, 1959-60; Mrs. Verna Lengyel, 1961-62; Mrs. Verna Wortman, 1963-65; Miss Dorothy Davis, 1966; Mrs. Helene Bischoff, 1967; Mrs. Nina Bigley, 1968-69; Mrs. Mary Batson, 1968.

Through its wide array of diversified programs which stress cultural and educational topics, world affairs, business, public relations and communication, legislation and civic participation, B & P members strive at all times for personal development, while assisting others achieve success and maintain high standards established by those women whose ideals and beliefs created the Business and Professional Women's Federation in 1919.

A few of the charter members whose efforts resulted in the National Federation being conceived 50 years ago are expected to return this weekend to St. Louis, the Federation's birthplace, for the organization's Golden Anniversary convention.

An extensive series of convention activities is planned, starting Saturday and continuing through the following Friday, July 25, for 5000 women representing each state who will be official delegates and visitors to the national conference.

Annual projects supported and sponsored by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, include presentation of a scholarship award to a local high school senior selection of a "Woman of the Year" and "Boss of the Year," donating Christmas baskets of gifts and food to needy families and members serving as Salvation Army Bellringers at Yuletide, sponsorship of a young career woman; and parties arranged for mentally and physically handicapped children.

The club's first president was Mrs. Dorothy Baenger 1921-22.

Acid Thrown on Hood

Jimmy C. Hicks, 2657 Washington avenue, reported at 1:45 p.m. Wednesday that someone threw acid on the hood of his 1966 auto parked at his home.

More than 600 spectators rined a Wilson Park baseball diamond last evening to witness 300 youthful athletes take part in the eighth annual "Junior Olympics," sponsored by the Granite City park district.

Participants, representing 11 playground centers conducted by the park district during the summer months, competed in obstacle races, running events, shuttle relays, sack races and standing jumps.

The highest number of overall team points was accrued by Parkview school playground center with 85 points, which narrowly defeated by six points the defending champion, Nameoki center. Nameoki youngsters tallied 79 team points.

Other centers and their team scores were: Marshall school, third place with 74 points; Niedringhaus, 65; McKinley, 35; Webster, 34; Wilson, 24; Lincoln Place community center, 22; Logan school, 14; Washington, 13; and the Salvation Army center, six.

Thirty-eight playground leaders and recreational aides, assisted by members of the coaching staff from Granite City high school, served as meet officials. Mrs. Helen Bjorkman, summer recreation supervisor, coordinated the Junior Olympics program.

Pre-game ceremonies included a "Parade of Playgrounds," lighting of the Olympic flame by Mike Allen, GCHS track star; raising the Olympic flag by Boy Scout Troop 22; and trumpet fanfare, played by members of the Granite City high school band.

Miss Coover Robertson sang the National Anthem and colored balloons were released to mark the occasion. Park district officials were on hand to congratulate the young athletes who received a total of 222 first, second and third place ribbons.

A complete list of event winners will appear in a subsequent issue.

Home Notes

By Mrs. Catherine R. Mauck
Madison County Home Adviser,
Home Economics Extension
University of Illinois

Aluminum Pan Darkening

The darkening of an aluminum pan when water or low-acid food is boiled in it results from the formation of grayish-black metallic oxides. These compounds may come from the aluminum pan or from iron salts that are in the water or food. When an acid food is cooked in the darkened aluminum pan, the oxides are dissolved by the acid, and the pan becomes shiny again. The food is not harmed.

Gone With the Wind Crust Browning

The pastry recipe and the baking temperature are important to the browning of piecrust. Pastry made by a rich formula—one that contains a large proportion of fat—browns more readily than that made by a lean formula.

For good browning, the dough must be evenly mixed and the piecrust must be dry before the crust is placed into it. An oven temperature of 400° to 450° F. to start baking is recommended, primarily to brown the lower crust.

Meaning of "Colorfast"

What does colorfast mean to you? Colorfast to light, dry cleaning, perspiration, washing? Since there are many kinds of colorfastness in fabrics, you may need to ask to find out exactly what you're buying. In general, fabrics or yarns that have been dyed before weaving are more colorfast than fabrics dyed after weaving. You can tell if the fabric has been dyed after weaving if the torn end is white or light-colored.

For complete confidence, remember this hint from the U.S. Department of Agriculture: Unless the manufacturer guarantees the colorfastness of his fabric, there's no way to tell colorfastness for sure.

"Poison-Proof" Your Home

Children under five are the most frequent victims of accidental poisonings. Statistics show that one child in 38 under five years of age will be the victim of such an accident this year. And these are poor odds.

To avoid such an accident, "poison-proof" your home, suggests O. L. Hogsett, University of Illinois Extension safety specialist. Here's how:

—Accept the fact that children are curious. They will explore and drink anything regardless of its flavor.

—Keep household cleaning products out of the sight and reach of children, preferably in a locked cabinet or closet. If you must leave a room even briefly, remove poisonous product containers to a safe spot.

—Never put a poison or toxic substance in a container originally designed for food—a milk bottle, cup, soft-drink bottle or cereal box, for example.

—Store medicines apart from other household products.

—Label everything. Don't depend on memory for identification.

—Always turn the light on when giving or taking medicine at night. And read the label.

—Since children tend to imitate adults, avoid taking medicines in their presence.

—Never call medicine "candy" to deceive children. When left alone, children may locate the bottle and eat or drink the contents.

—Clean out your medicine cabinet periodically. Destroy old medicines by flushing them down the drain. Then rinse container in water and discard it. To prevent an accidental poisoning, you need a sense of responsibility and an awareness of possible hazards.

Similar Names, Different Fabrics
The words "acetate" and "triacetate" sound enough alike to cause confusion to shoppers. So to avoid problems, check the label to know what you're buying.

Marjorie Sohn, University of Illinois Extension clothing specialist, explains that care recommendations for these two fabrics differ.

Manufacturers recommend dry-cleaning for acetate; tritered the building and took the sixth. A company lift truck was used. Entry was gained by using a sledge hammer to break the lock on the south gate to the plant.

Zara Lesko, 712 East Chain of Rocks road, Mitchell, reported to Madison police at 6:20 p.m. yesterday that her wallet was stolen from her purse while she was shopping in Schermer's Market, 12th street and Madison avenue. She said the wallet contained about $20 in cash, credit cards and a check book.

Juveniles Picked Up

Two Venice boys, 10 and 16 years of age, were picked up by Madison police at 12:20 a.m. today while pushing a power mower at Third and Franklin street. Police said they believed the mower had been stolen and ordered the boys to report later.

Juvenile Officer William Fanning

Victor Szymec, 2000 Richmond avenue, reported at 9:30 p.m. Monday that two persons stole a brief case from his parked auto while he was on the track at Granite City high school. The case contained some papers from an insurance company.

A 1967 auto owned by Charles Patterson of No. 2 Iris lane, Pontoon Beach, who reported that it was stolen six or seven days previously from Fanning's service station, East 27th street and Nameoki road, was found abandoned by police in a car's service station, East 27th street before the theft was reported. It was towed to a garage.

Earl Rockwell, 118 Moonlight drive, reported at 11 p.m. Monday that two rear tires and wheels were stolen from his 1967 auto while it was parked after 3 p.m. on the lot of the blast furnace division of Granite City Steel Co.

A. J. Ambuehl, 1521 Clark avenue, reported at 4 p.m. Monday that a wheel and tire were taken from his 1969 truck parked on the lot at American Steel Foundries between 6 a.m. and 4 p.m. last Friday.

acetate can be washed. Acetate is very sensitive to heat; triacetate can take higher temperatures and can be heat-set. This process makes it highly resistant to shrinkage, stretching and wrinkling.

Because the triacetate fibers are so strong, they're used extensively in sportswear, blouses, jersey knits, double knits and wash and wear dresses. Triacetate also has good pleat retention.

Since acetate fabrics are soft and silky, they drape well. These features, along with low cost, make them silk substitutes. Acetate fibers are often blended with rayon to make linen-like, wool-like and cotton-like fabrics. Many summer dress fabrics contain acetate.

Miss Sohn emphasizes that acetate responds best to dry cleaning. If it's washed, it loses body and will wrinkle easily. Therefore, to avoid possible color appointment, check into requirements before you buy a garment.

Bone Darkening

Bone discoloration in young poultry is a natural condition that doesn't affect quality, aroma, flavor, texture or palatability of the meat.

University of Illinois food researchers explain that little can be done to prevent bone darkening that occurs on young poultry 8 to 10 weeks old. When young broilers are frozen and then thawed, the protein coloring matter of the red blood cells in the bone marrow is liberated.

This substance, called hemoglobin, penetrates the spongy bone wall and is deposited on the outside of the bone. Cooking changes the red color to various shades of brown.

The reason that the hemoglobin penetrates the walls of the bones is that present-day, fast-growing chickens reach market size before their bones have hardened sufficiently to prevent this penetration.

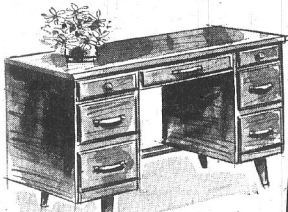

Some people think that killing methods, chilling methods and the time between slaughtering and freezing affect bone discoloration. But tests show that none of these has any significant effect. Nor does the method of cooking affect the condition.

Storage temperatures do affect bone discoloration, and freezing increases consistency during storage at 10 degrees F. but only slightly at 0 degrees F.

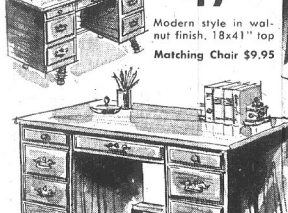

The unsightly appearance created by bone darkening causes some consumers to discriminate against frozen poultry. Despite technological advances in processing and freezing, a completely satisfactory way to prevent the condition has not yet been found.

GC, Venice Tax Payments Now 15-17% of Total Bill

Tax collections in Granite City climbed today to a total of $1,430,013, or 15% of the total bill charged for payment this year, while in Venice township tax payments thus far amount to $401,866, or 17% of the total local tax extension.

Granite City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich said his office will continue local collections through Aug. 15. Venice Township Collector Frank Reidelberger Jr., who is receiving tax payments in the old First National bank building at Fourth street and Madison avenue in Madison, announced a collection shutoff date of July 31.

Meanwhile, total local tax collections for Nimrod and Chouteau townships were reported at 73% and 72%, respectively, of the total taxes billed in those townships. Nimrod township ended its local tax collection period June 13. Chouteau township collections were ended in mid-May. Collectors of both townships have certified their tax books to the office of County Treasurer John Maestas.

Exceeded Last Year
Rich said this morning that Granite City collectors are running about $160,000 ahead of the same number of collection days a year ago, but that this was to be expected because the Granite City township tax bill is $1,632,613 higher this year than it was a year ago. Percentage-wise, he noted, this would make current collections about the same as they were for the same collection period last summer.

Granite City taxpayers are charged this year with payment of a total local tax bill of $9,170,870, an all-time record. Last year's tax charge locally was $7,538,257.

As of yesterday, Rich's office reported total payments of $1,268,029 in real estate taxes and $223,983 in personal property taxes, a total of $1,492,012. Rich said he hopes to collect a total of at least $8.5 millions of the total bill before the collection period ends Aug. 15. Most industrial and other large tax payments customarily are made during the last few days of the collection period.

Reidelberger said his office has collected $401,866 against the total of $2,859,726 charged for collection in Venice township this year. The Venice tax bill is up $132,398 over last year's $2,727,328. The July 31 shutoff date announced by the Venice collector leaves only 11 more days in which Venice taxpayers may pay tax bills locally.

Urges Local Payment

Both Rich and Reidelberger urged taxpayers of their respective townships to pay their bills locally because 2% commission fees are retained locally on all bills paid before the books are returned to the county treasurer. In Granite City township, this money goes to the city and accounts annually for about $130,000 in revenue.

Commissions retained by Reidelberger go to the town fund. Rich also has asked taxpayers to mail tax payments if they wish to do so as a matter of convenience. Tax payments mailed through the closing date will be included in local collections, he said.

Nameless tax books turned over to the county treasurer by Nameless town collector Gene Roter show collections this year of $856,711 in real estate taxes and $296,022 in personal property taxes for a total of $1,152,733.

This is 73% of the total of $1,578,581 charged for collection this year. This year's Nameless township billing was up $229,714 over last summer's billing of $1,348,867.

In Chouteau township, collections by Town Collector Charles E. Lexow amounted to $247,784 in personal property taxes and $589,549 in real estate taxes, a total of $837,333, according to certifications to the county treasurer's office.

The Chouteau township collection is 72% of the total bill of $1,177,265 extended against township taxpayers for payment this year, up $146,157 over last year's tax charge of $1,031,208.

Mathews Agency Buys Roman Service Station

The Mathews Chevrolet agency completed purchase of the adjacent Standard service station at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues from Bob and Eck Romann, veteran operators. It was announced Wednesday.

Jack Mathews, an officer of the agency, said the station will continue to operate under the name of Mathews Standard station. He said the agency has attempted to acquire the property for a long period of time. Ronald Adair of St. Louis, who has been employed by the firm here, was named station manager.

It was reported that Eck Romann has retired and Bob Romann has obtained other employment in the area.

St. Louisan Charged With R-O-W Violation

Nathaniel Jefferies, St. Louis, was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way, causing an accident at 4:35 p.m. Tuesday at the intersection of Madison avenue and 28th street.

According to police, the St. Louis motorist, traveling north on Madison avenue, made a left turn into the path of Horvel D. Wallace, 3000 Ash avenue, a motorcyclist. Jefferies is to appear for a hearing by July 26.

GC Man Stabbed, Critically Hurt In Tavern Fight

A Granite City man was wounded critically and a former Granite City resident was arrested by Madison police late Monday night as the result of a fight in Johnny Lewis' tavern, Fourth street and Madison avenue in Madison.

Walter Wayne White, 37, of 2126 Dewey street, was reported in "fair" condition today in St. Elizabeth Hospital where he is recovering from multiple stab wounds sustained in the fight which, police said, occurred in a rear room out of sight of tavern patrons.

Arrested by Madison police following the stabbing was Mark Timothy Stamps, 25, who gave a Bellevue address but who formerly lived in Granite City, according to Madison authorities.

Madison officers reported they were called at 11:10 p.m. Monday to Lewis' tavern where they found White sitting on a bar stool bleeding profusely. Police said there was blood all over the floor. Police called an ambulance which took White to the hospital.

Heard Sounds of Scuffle
John Lewis, operator of the tavern, and Sant-Guioff, bartender, told police that White and Stamps had gone into a rear room together and a short time later Lewis and Guioff heard sounds of a scuffle. Lewis attempted to open the door, but found it locked, police said. Lewis and Guioff then broke open the door, they told police, and White came out, bleeding from a number of wounds.

Lewis and Guioff told officers that Stamps walked over to the side door of the tavern and stood there until Lewis went to the phone to call police. He then ran out the door, Lewis related.

Authorities reported that White suffered five stab wounds to his left side, six stab wounds in the middle of his back, a cut over his left eye, a deep cut on the right side of the neck and a severely deep cut in the back of the neck just below the hairline.

At the hospital where officers attempted to question him, White refused to talk about the attack, officers said, and told them he would not press any charges.

A short time later police received an anonymous telephone call from a person who told them that Stamps was drinking at another Madison tavern. Madison and Venice officers went to the place and said they found Stamps drinking beer at the bar. Stamps was taken to the Madison city jail.

Surgery Performed
Meanwhile, police received a call from St. Elizabeth Hospital and informed that White refused to permit physicians to operate, although he was bleeding internally. Police said they located White's wife who was taken to the hospital to give permission for surgery. White was listed as critical throughout Tuesday and reported as in fair condition yesterday.

Madison Chief of Police Emmet Paxia said yesterday that he is to meet with a representative of the state's attorney's office to determine what charges may be placed against Stamps.

White Stamps was not charged in connection with the fight, he was turned over yesterday to Granite City police who said they have been holding several warrants for Stamps.

MISS CATHY GRIGGS
Miss Cathy Griggs was honored with a bridal shower Sunday afternoon.

Miss Griggs resides in Parkville, Mo., and is to become the bride of Andrew Rakiewicz of Madison July 26. The young couple will be united in marriage in Parkville.

Many of the honoree's relatives and friends were in attendance at the shower, given by the prospective groom's aunts, Mrs. James Zelinski of St. Louis and Mrs. Mary Golewski of Madison. The event took place at the Zelinski residence. The home was appropriately decorated for the event, and the gift table was decorated in pink and white with an umbrella and wedding bells. Pink is to be worn by the bridesmaids in the wedding. Individual favors were at each place setting.

Games were played and prizes were awarded to the winners. A buffet lunch was served by the hostesses, by the prospective groom's mother, Mrs. Rakiewicz. Approximately 35 guests were seated.

The Polish hall in Madison was appropriately decorated for a shower and reception held Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller Jr., who were married June 11 and are now residing in Collinsville.

The young couple will move to Carpentersville, Ill., in August, as he will be teaching English and working with emotionally disturbed children, while studying toward a master's degree in psychology.

The event was given by Mrs. Marlene Hart, Miss Stephanie Puzic and Miss Gail Rogers.

The gift table was covered with white, with assorted sizes of wedding bells on the skirt of the table. Long tables where the guests were seated were also in white, containing assorted candies and nuts.

Mrs. Miller was assisted in opening the gifts by Miss Rose Marie Fisch, her maid of honor, and Mrs. Judy Mullins, sister of the bride. Mrs. Marlene Hart, the groom's sister, and Miss Gail Rogers and Miss Bea Duggeroff.

Pre-Historic Indians in Area Worked with 'Micro-Tools'

Pre-historic Indians who occupied the banks of the Kaskaskia River, near New Athens, had their own micro-tools for particular work on their ceramics, and in making other implements, a Southern Illinois University archaeologist reports.

Results of two summers' field excavations at the Mary Coolidge site five miles south of New Athens are reported by Carl Kuttruff in the Museum's new journal entitled Southern Illinois Research Reports.

Along with thousands of pieces of pottery, arrowheads, hammerstones, drills and other tools, Kuttruff and his field crew turned up almost 100 small flint items which were obviously used for cutting purposes—50 chert flakes, a couple of miniature scrapers (probably originally having haft), 24 flake scrapers, nine "turtle-back" scrapers (thick flakes loosely chipped on all sides), and 14 spokeshaves used for shaping objects such as arrow shafts or bone drills.

This is a new category of artifact that has not been defined previously for this area, Kuttruff says. He points out that similar micro-tools have been found along the Wabash River and in the Lower Mississippi Valley.

Date Back to 400 B.C.
Most of these discoveries seem to be of the Middle and Late Woodland period (about 400 B.C. to 900 A.D.), although some were found in pits identified as Mississippian (900 to 1450 A.D.).

Under a grant from the National Park Service, the University of Missouri during the winter of 1965-66 conducted a preliminary survey of the area of the Lower Kaskaskia to be affected by the proposed Kaskaskia canalization project. This survey located 38 new pre-historic occupation sites, bringing the total known to at least 61, ranging from Archaic to historic times.

During the summers of 1967 and 1968, also with National Park Service grants, Kuttruff conducted salvage operations, re-examining 10 of the sites recommended for further work, but concentrating excavations at the Mary Coolidge site.

Three large block excavations were made, uncovering post holes outlining dwelling structures, in some cases with Mississippian occupation superimposed on earlier occupations. In addition, four large areas were explored by means of power trenches to remove surface mounds with a minimum of hand labor and also to define the limits of the occupation zone.

Tour Planned Aug. 2
Kuttruff and his field crew, chiefly archaeology students, have started their third summer of field work and again will concentrate their efforts at the Mary Coolidge site. The Museum plans to hold a conducted tour of this site Aug. 2 to permit visitors to inspect the excavations and also to visit the field laboratory in New Athens.

Kuttruff's crew also will do some highway salvage work this summer—at two locations on the Carlyle by-pass of U.S. Highway 50 and at the Ohio River bridge construction site for new Interstate Highway 24.

The same field party also will survey the Kaskaskia further south, from Old Kaskaskia, about 10 miles north of Chester.

Copies of Kuttruff's report on "Lower Kaskaskia Archaeology" may be ordered from the Museum, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill. 62901, or obtained at Museum headquarters, 207 E. Pearl street. Copies also are available of the 1968 report on the Carlyle Reservoir archaeological salvage program by Frank Rackerby. Each is priced at $1.50. The Museum's Southern Illinois Research Records series is edited by Phil C. Weigand, curator of North American archaeology.

Miss Mary Ann Andrea and Fred Wiltman, uncle of the bride, were the attendants. Miss Andrea wore white crepe with a black pleated skirt. The couple will reside in Madison.

SHIP SHAPE MEETING

The Ship Shape club met Tuesday evening at Schermer's civic center in Madison with the president, Mrs. Yvonne Passig, presiding. The Take Off Pounds pledge of allegiance to the flag were given in unison.

Mrs. Elaine Sova was crowned "queen of the week." A letter was read in regard to a banquet and graduation party Oct. 11 in Springfield. The 1969 national winner and Keep Off Pounds winner will speak at that meeting.

Mrs. Martha Ripple was awarded a prize during the meeting. Others participating in a singalong were Mesdames Jackie Gattung, Lorene Gremaud, Hazel Trotta, Betty Allen, Elizabeth Bucher, Patricia Lee, Barbara Krohn, Johanna Collett, Shirley Kingsley, Helen Townes, Juanita Herrington, Alberta Robertson, Virginia Hone, Beverly Lindsey, Olga Vizer, Alice Baumbarger, Wilma Large, Thelma Black and Janet Allen.

Mrs. Townes closed the meeting with prayer.

WSCS DISCUSSION ON

WORK OF MISSIONARIES
The Women's Society of Christian Service assembled at the Madison First United Presbyterian Church in the Little Chapel for prayer times Tuesday evening. The business meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Ann Ritter.

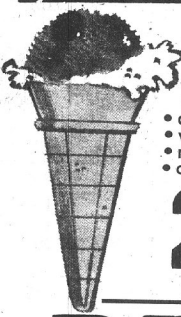

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Estella McBrien. An invitation was read for the members to attend a WSCS conference at McKendree College Aug. 4-8.

The program was given by Mrs. Thelma Black and Mrs. Giesla Gott on the topic, "Missionaries' Work." Mrs. Gott told of her experience at a Methodist mission school in Germany.

Mrs. Grace Johnson, the hostess, served refreshments. Others present were Mrs. Eva Clemons, Mrs. Hazel Reynolds, Mrs. Cornelia Hommert and Mrs. Hilda Withaus.

Maples in the Windstorm

Recent storms have provided a chance to compare Silver Maples as a shade and ornamental tree. High winds gave every tree a test to prove they were strong and resilient. Many Silver Maples and Chinese Elm failed the test when they split or snapped off. Rain soaked foliage and gusting wind created the same circumstances as a sleet storm to test a tree's ability.

Many fallen limbs of silver maple proved to be hollow. Dehorning trunks are quick to develop hollow trunks and limbs and become an increasing hazard from wind, rain and ice instead of an asset because of pruning and smaller size. Other varieties of maples, oak and ash survived the storm because they were more flexible. When you decide to replace some of your older trees or replant, look over some of these or call the Cooperative Extension Service Office at the Greater St. Louis Area.

Note About Millipedes

Garden millipedes are appearing in many neighborhoods as heavy rains drive them to higher ground.

Garden millipedes are worm-like insects with dozens of pairs of legs. Millipedes curl up like a pinwheel when disturbed or asleep. These creatures live in rotting leaves, old logs and wood areas. Recent heavy rains cause them to leave the woods and ground cover beds and head for high ground.

When you are in the path of this migration, weekly sprays with Sevin will help slow the tide. Better control will occur when you spray nearby ground cover beds as well as the foundation and a wide strip of grass around the house. If weeds are nearby, spray a broad strip along the edges of the trees. Repeat the sprays every five to seven days as long as the insects occur.

Mimosa Weeborn

Mimosa weeborn larvae are beginning to appear on honey locust and mimosa. Mimosa weeborn are small, gray to brown, striped, active caterpillars that use a silken thread to tie a bunch of leaflets together. They skeletonize these leaflets and then form a new nest. The old nest turns brown, and the leaflets die. Several generations will follow this pattern. Early treatments will help prevent more severe damage by this insect later in the summer.

However, an additional treatment in late July and August may still be needed. One or two spray applications of carbaryl (Sevin) or malathion will provide early season control.

Chrysanthemums

Summer pruning and extra fertilizer is the secret to beautiful chrysanthemums.

Fall blooming chrysanthemums can be grown as short stemmed beauties if you prune down to six inch stubs and this

Permit to Extend

M. A. L. Landfill Denied by Board

Denial of a special use permit sought by the city of Madison to extend the M.A.L. landfill on Chouteau island to an adjacent tract of land was upheld Wednesday morning by the Madison county board of supervisors.

The denial was recommended by the county zoning board of appeals after having the petition under consideration for several months. There was no comment on the decision during the meeting.

Opponents have no objection for use of the tract as a dry landfill but do object to the disposal of garbage in the area currently covered with water.

The board was overruled on one recommended denial on the petition of LaVern Childers to operate a beauty shop in her home in an R-3 one-family residence district in Chouteau township. Supervisor Walter Sparks explained that there would be no more than one operator on hand and there would be no parking problem.

Hold over for further consideration was the petition of Robert H. Gail for a special use permit to place a mobile home in the Hills Terrace subdivision of Chouteau township. The zoning board had recommended denial.

Other zoning requests granted were those of:

Dorothy and Winfred wards, owners, and Joe Parisi, purchaser, to rezone a tract from agricultural to B-3 highway business district with a special use permit for an amusement area in Nameoki township.

William V. Douglas to place a mobile home in an agricultural district of Nameoki township for the lifetime of his father.

Other petitions denied were those of:

Frank Aldridge to operate a beauty shop in his home in an R-4 single-family residence district in Nameoki township.

Anna and Ernest Dickinson to place a mobile home in an R-3 one-family residence district in Nameoki township.

Marion McGlawn, owner, and Terry D. Jones, purchaser and occupant of a mobile home, to place a mobile home in an R-3 one-family residence district in Chouteau township.

IN Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, GWEN ROSE MEILL, who passed away July 18, 1969:
The flowers on her grave we so lovingly lay
In such a short time wither away
And such was the short life of our darling one
Too soon, a beautiful bud was gone.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

WIN UP TO $100 CASH AT GRAND OPENING

RICHARD ATKINS
ANNOUNCES NEW LOCATION WITH NO OVERHEAD

"Everyone has heard of low overhead, but now we can offer NO overhead" said Richard Atkins. "Since I've set up my office and showroom here in my home we can afford to offer much lower prices because we're not faced with meeting a monthly quota just to cover the overhead of a large store! We have the same large selection of Name Brand carpeting, Mohawk, Downs, Ozie, Americana and all the others. We offer the same expert installation. With NO overhead, we're just a little more competitive."

"Our Shop at Home service has been very effective too! Quite a few customers will call and have us bring our showroom to them. We try to get some idea of the style, pattern and color they're looking for, then we take as many samples as they want right out to their home. These customers feel that it's easier to choose the right carpet with the samples among their other furnishings, this way they can match the carpet with the drapes, walls or whatever."

"We hope they will come out this week though, for our grand opening. Twenty-five of them will be awfully glad they did! They can win up to One Hundred dollars in our Super Carpet Man puzzle contest!"

17 Meadowlark Court

Dear Jackie:

Last night I had my card club over and one of the girls spilled coffee on my brand new Nylon carpet. She failed to mention it to me (I was in the kitchen fixing sandwiches at the time) so it sat for about three hours before I discovered it. I wiped it up with a paper towel but there was still a faint stain. I was just sick and my husband was furious with me. What can I do?

WIFE OF FURIOUS,
Granite City

Dear Wife:

Tell him to cool off and then get him to drive you out to our Grand Opening sometime this week. Pick up a can of SPOT SHOT and your troubles are over. You just spray it on and the stains go away. And next time you have the girls over, tell your friend not to talk so much when she's drinking coffee, and talk a little more if she spills it.

Dear Jackie:

I read your column all the time and have been wanting to come out to your new showroom and take a look at some of the samples. My problem is that I don't know where 17 Meadowlark Court is, and I can't read that little map you always have at the bottom. Where in the world are you located?

BAD EYES
Madison, Illinois

Dear Eyes:

Your problems are over! There's a special map today just for you (and a lot of others) and it's just in time for you to visit us during our Grand Opening. The map is twice as big and there are twice as many bargains, so hurry out. You might even win a brand new, crisp, One-Hundred Dollar bill!

If you have floor covering problems write to, "Dear Jackie" C/O Atkins Floor Covering 17 Meadowlark Ct. Granite City, Illinois Phone 877-2058

If you have problems finding 17 Meadowlark Ct. just follow this map!

NO PURCHASE REQUIRED TO WIN $100 IN CASH

It's easy to win and there's nothing to buy. Just fit the words in the word list into the proper square in the puzzle (we've even made it easier for you by supplying some of the letters already) and bring your completed puzzle out to our showroom. If you've completed the puzzle correctly and are one of the first twenty-five to do so, you may select an envelope from our prize box.

There are only twenty-five envelopes, so there is a good chance that YOU may walk away with a brand new crisp one-hundred-dollar bill! And, there's a prize in EVERY envelope! Sorry, but you must be over twenty-one years old to enter. Relatives and/or employees of Atkins Floor Covering and the Granite City Press Record are ineligible. Only one puzzle entry will be accepted from each contestant.

Bonnie and Friends To Sing at Kiel Aug. 3

A former resident of Granite City now a member of "Delaney, Bonnie and Friends," a musical group, will be appearing at the Kiel Auditorium in St. Louis on Aug. 3 for one night performance.

Bonnie is Bonnie Farrell, a daughter of Mrs. Ruth Nisinski of 2400 Edison avenue. She sang, using the name of Bonnie Lynn, at Gaslight Square in St. Louis several years ago.

She is married to Delaney Bramlett, and they make their home in Hollywood, Calif., with their two daughters, Suzanne and Rebecca, when not on tour in this country and Europe.

The Bramlett family was in Granite City in May to spend Mother's Day with Mrs. Nisinski. Since then, they have appeared on the Johnny Carson television show and in London where they were in the same show with the Beatles, in June.

Volunteers Wanted

Pontoon Beach Police Need Radio Dispatchers

Pontoon Beach police department needs volunteer radio dispatchers to work from 6 p.m. to midnight and from midnight to 6 a.m. daily, in the police headquarters building at 3924 Lake drive, it was announced this week by Police Chief Merle L. Hensley.

Volunteers must be males, 18 or older. Dispatchers are required to answer telephone calls for assistance, radio transmissions originating from area police services, and notify police personnel on the duty roster to handle emergencies and other assignments, he explained.

The all-volunteer police department has an extension telephone located in the Phillips 66 service station at Pontoon Beach through which cars are dispatched from 6 a.m. to noon.

Hensley noted, however, that sufficient manpower be obtained from the call for volunteers, daytime assignments could also be handled from the police station.

Interested applicants may contact Chief Hensley, at 931-0707, for additional information, or call the police station at 801-0728. Those wishing to apply in person may do so at police headquarters during evening hours, the officer added.

Recent promotions approved by the Pontoon Beach board of trustees and announced by Hensley this week, include Edward Jeff promoted to police captain and Frank Daily promoted to sergeant and juvenile officer. Kenneth White recently was appointed, a patrolman with the department, he said.

The Pontoon Beach police force currently has a roster of 15 men and one woman. The latter, Mrs. Flora Morgan, 30 Venetia drive, has served as juvenile officer and matron for the past six months, during which time she has participated in law enforcement classes, involving juvenile delinquency studies at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Officers on the force in addition to Hensley are Assistant Police Chief Harold Denham; Fordy Bolan, chief investigator; Capt. Jeff; Lt. Edward Cavar; Sgt. Dailey; and patrolmen Jerry Bennett, Leroy Burch, Roosevelt Bennett, Robert Littlejohn, Robert Hogg, Bobby Bennett, John Turner and White.

Uniform expense is furnished by the village board to department members, the police chief explained. The Pontoon force presently operates one patrol vehicle. A second patrol car will be added within a few weeks, he said.

Dr. Tashma Enrolled For Post-Grad Work

Dr. Austin Tashma, OD, 3238 Nameoki road, will return to the University of Indiana next week for another course of post-graduate work.

This year's course is entitled "Visual Training and Orthoptics." It will cover visual training procedures for patients with various visual problems.

Alton Man Quits Race For Con-Con Delegate

Edwin A. Roller of Alton, one of two candidates who filed nominating petitions as a candidate for delegate to the Illinois Constitutional Convention from the 53rd Senatorial district, withdrew from the race Monday, according to the office of Secretary of State Paul Powell at Springfield.

Roller's withdrawal reduces to nine the number of candidates in the primary election race from the 53rd district, which includes the Quad-City area and six other Madison county townships. The primary election, in which four delegate nominees will be chosen, will be held Sept. 23. Two delegates will be elected in a runoff election Nov. 18.

State Senator W. Russell Arrington of the 1st Senatorial district, also withdrew from the delegate race in that district Monday.

Indoor Grass Grows Green at Local Bank

Banking institutions are noted for "green stuff," but real grass growing out of wall-to-wall carpeting in a lower level is carrying the green interior motif a little too far.

Employees of the American National Bank at Fehling and Nameoki roads were astonished Tuesday when, honest-to-goodness grass was discovered growing from carpeting in the bank's loan department, located below ground level in the all brick and glass structure.

The unusual occurrence was explained quite simply—a combination of scattered bird seed and the aftermath of recent flow waters which seeped into the basement area to a depth of about one inch.

The atmosphere of the bank's loan department is enhanced by the presence of three singing canaries in cages which, on occasion, scatter their bird seed around. It is theorized that the birds lodged in the all-wool gold carpeting and germinated during the time flood waters were present, growing to a height of two inches before being noticed by disbelieving employees.

Wife of Teamsters Agent Doty Expires

Due to the death of Mrs. Marie H. Doty, 49, wife of William Doty, secretary-treasurer and business representative of Teamsters Local 525 of Alton, the local Teamsters and Chauffeurs Local 525 at 1818 Delmar avenue is closed today.

Mrs. Doty died Monday at Alton Memorial Hospital, Ill. since January she entered the hospital in March.

A member of the First Methodist Church of Jerseyville, Mrs. Doty also belonged to the VFW Auxiliary and the Eagle's Auxiliary of Jerseyville.

Surviving are her husband and a daughter, Darlene, at home.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. today with burial in Rose Lawn Memory Gardens.

Program at SIU On Industrial Waste Controls

Southern Illinois University is joining with industry and government again this summer in the attack against the problems of industrial waste and pollution.

For the second consecutive summer the School of Technology and the Illinois State Technical Services Program of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development are sponsoring a program on the control of industrial water and air pollution.

The program includes a two day seminar, Friday and Saturday, and a continuing technical information interchange on individual problems of industry which began in June and will continue through September.

Friday's seminar program will consist of discussion of water pollution and solid waste disposal problems. The Saturday session will deal with air pollution problems.

The seminar will be conducted by University staff members who will be joined by David R. Maneval, director of research and development of Mines Industries; Don Pecok, director, Air Pollution Control Division, St. Louis county Health Department; John O'Connor, associate professor of sanitary engineering, University of Illinois; and George Tsao, associate professor, Iowa State University.

Openings are still available for industrial concerns to participate in either or both parts of the program. Interested parties may contact J. W. Chen, associate professor, School of Technology, SIU, Carbondale, Ill., 62901, or phone 1-618-453-5293.

No Advantage Now in Rail Haul of Refuse in This Area

(Sixth of a Series)

Railroads have made various proposals for hauling of municipal refuse by rail, with subsequent disposal by sanitary landfill, the Homer & Shifren consulting engineering firm has pointed out.

As of December 1968, only one of the proposals had resulted in an approved contract, between the city of Philadelphia, Pa. and the Eastern Land Reclamation Co.

The city is to deliver at least 200,000 tons of refuse yearly (1000 tons for 200 days) to two transfer stations, where the refuse is to be shredded and baled for shipment on the Reading Railroad to abandoned strip mines in upstate Pennsylvania.

It is expected that shredding and compacting will result in a bulk density of 70 to 72 pounds per cubic foot, or 1900 pounds per cubic yard. Eastern is to receive $5.30 a ton for preparing, hauling and disposing of the refuse. Collection of refuse remains the city's responsibility.

Milwaukee County Plan
Milwaukee county, Wis., received bids in January 1969 for disposal of solid wastes by rail transport. A private contractor, together with the Chicago & Milwaukee Railroad, submitted a low bid of $6.23 a ton for 300,000-480,000 tons yearly and a $3.48 for 600,000-720,000. Transfer station sites were to be acquired by the county.

Serious consideration apparently is being given to San Francisco to a plan to ship refuse by rail to a desert area in northern California. The city would pay $6.50 per ton of refuse dumped at a mid-city railroad transfer station. The county where landfill would occur would receive 25 cents a ton as an inducement to permit disposal without its limits.

New York Central, prior to merger with the Pennsylvania Railroad, proposed rail haul and sanitary landfill to authorities of Westchester county, N. Y.

This called for loading refuse in steel containers, each containing 38 to 40 tons compacted to 7000 pounds per cubic yard. Filled containers would be loaded on flat cars for hauling to a remote site.

The containers would be unloaded at the disposal site, moved to the working face of the landfill, dumped and returned to the railroad siding at the landfill for cleaning and reloading on cars for the return trip. Minimum capacity for the Westchester county operation was 1000 tons daily with an estimated overall cost to the county of $5.06 a ton.

$6.50 Local Proposal
Illinois Central has shown interest in providing similar service for the Madison-St. Clair-Monroe counties area.

The process proposed includes construction of railroad transfer stations at which raw municipal refuse would be baled to achieve densities of 60 to 70 pounds per cubic foot. Baled refuse would be loaded on rail cars and taken to suitable sites where final disposal would be made by sanitary landfill. Sites mentioned as suitable within the area are the abandoned strip mines south and west of Belleville.

Estimated cost of a truck-railroad transfer station operation for Madison county, with the station located near Glen Carbon, including total service from the station to disposal, was quoted as $6.30 a ton.

Four areas have population sufficiently large and dense to have refuse warranting consideration of large-scale systems for refuse disposal—northwest Madison county, including Alton and Wood River; southwest Madison county, including the Quad-Cities and Edwardsville; northwest St. Clair, including East St. Louis; and central St. Clair, including Belleville.

For each of the four, there is at least one nearby long-range to which either being used or could be used for sanitary landfill.

The city of Alton presently operates a sanitary landfill at the north edge of the city with a probable life of 20 years.

There is no apparent reason to expect there to be any advantage in hauling refuse by rail to a more remote location.

For the Quad-Cities-Edwardsville and East St. Louis areas, there are numerous sites on both sides of Interstate 70 suitable for sanitary landfills, well within the limits of feasible truck hauling distances. There would be no economic advantage in rail haul to other locations.

Strip mine areas in south central St. Clair are already being used for sanitary landfills by Belleville and surrounding communities. There would be no advantage in considering rail haul for this area as long as there are abandoned strip mines in the vicinity.

As long as there are potential sanitary landfill sites within easy hauling distances of the centers of refuse production, there is no economic advantage in establishing a rail haul operation for disposal of the three-county area.

Future Potential Seen
If there were no such local sites available, and if disposal sites were made available in more remote places by means of rail haul, however, there could be several advantages accruing to this area.

Local authorities would be required to exercise control only over refuse collection and transfer station operations. The system, if operated properly, would be at least as clean and nuisance-free as any other current method of disposal.

There would be no problem in complying with current air pollution control criteria.

The system would accommodate all types of solid wastes normally handled in sanitary landfills, including building rubble, household appliances and industrial wastes. Reclamation of land would be an added benefit.

Economic Factor
There also are potential disadvantages in rail hauling. Compared to the cost of disposing of refuse at nearby sites, rail haul costs are relatively high.

The idea of disposing of wastes from one political jurisdiction in another may not be acceptable by residents of the latter area.

Unless a reasonably comprehensive plan for both collection and disposal was effected for the entire area, including financing the operating costs, administration of a rail haul system could be extremely cumbersome because of the many private haulers operating in the area and the methods presently used for payment of collection and disposal services.

Despite the apparent lack of practicality of rail haul from the three counties to St. Clair county mines, due to not being economical at this time, it may someday become attractive for disposal of at least some of the refuse produced on the Missouri side of the Mississippi River.

And if local disposal sites become exhausted, rail haul may become more attractive for disposing of refuse at lightly populated locations outside of the three counties.

Next: Hauling by barge.

Accelerated Flying Course is Planned

The three-day course is designed for the busy man or woman who wishes to quickly acquire the technical knowledge needed in flying. Instruction is concentrated into one weekend instead of extending over a 16-week period.

Spanish Pianist to be Featured at Festival

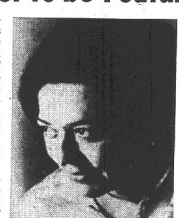

Tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday evening, the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Walter Susskind will play its fifth series of weekend concerts at the Mississippi River Festival on the southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University.

The featured artist on Friday and Saturday will be the Spanish pianist, Alicia de Larrocha, who has performed several times at Carnegie Hall.

At the age of four in her native Barcelona, Senorita de Larrocha's outstanding abilities brought her to the attention of Frank Marshall, the eminent piano pedagogue and successor of Granados' piano school. She gave her first public concert at age five under Marshall's tutelage and is now a director of the Marshall Academy in Barcelona.

Since 1947, when she began making public appearances outside of Spain, Senorita de Larrocha has performed in Paris, London, Edinburgh, Geneva, Brussels and other music capitals of the world.

She made her American debut in 1955 with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra. She also performed with the San Francisco Symphony and gave a recital at New York's Town Hall during the same year. This year she will give her third recital in Carnegie Hall.

ALICIA DE LARROCHA
Pianist

Gold Medal Award

In 1943, the virtuoso was awarded the coveted Gold Medal of the Marshall Academy, which is given only on exceptional occasions in the tradition of keeping alive a pure Spanish piano school. This was the first of many awards, including the Spanish Order of Civil Merit, the Harriet Cohen International Music Award Medal, the Padewski Memorial Medal and the Grand Prix du Disque.

Senorita de Larrocha returned to the United States in 1965, when her performance of Mozart's Concerto in A, Major, K. 488 with the New York Philharmonic was reviewed by the New York Times: "Miss de Larrocha... is a pianist's pianist and a musician's musician."

She has returned to the United States this summer to perform at the Blossom Festival, Robin Hood Dell, the Hollywood Bowl and with the St. Louis Symphony.

Friday and Saturday's concerts will begin at 8:30 p.m. Selections to be played, include: Friday—Overture to "Halka," by Moniuszko; Piano Concerto No. 2, by Chopin; Scherzo a la Russa, and "The Firebird"

Suite, by Stravinsky.

Saturday—"Marriage of Figaro" Overture, by Mozart; Piano Concerto No. 4, by Beethoven; and Scherzo a la Russa and "The Firebird" Suite.

Sunday's Program

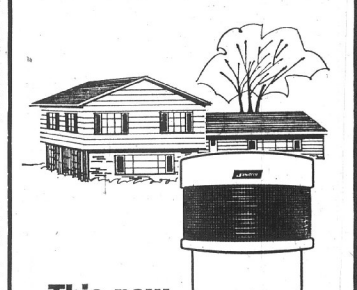

On Sunday, Maestro Susskind and the orchestra will perform an all Tchaikovsky Program. The featured soloist will be Miss Jodanna Rogers, soprano. Miss Rogers has a varied musical background which includes 11 years of piano, eight years of voice instruction. She was born in Moberly, Mo., and is the daughter of Col. J. C. Rogers, USAF.

In 1965, she won second place in the Dimitri Mitropoulos Awards Audition and was given a scholarship to Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., where she received her Bachelor of Fine Arts degree. In January of this year, Miss Rogers was awarded first prize in the St. Louis Young Artists Competition. Her present voice instructor is Irwin Umlauf.

Miss Rogers has appeared previously with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra in February of this year, performing Verdi's Ahi Fore's Lui-Sempre Libre from "La Traviata." She will also perform the role of the Queen of the Night in the "Magic Flute" at the Brevard Music Center, Brevard, N. C., on Aug. 1, and the lead role in the Nov. 7 production of "Cosi Fan Tutti" at Stephens College.

Miss Rogers' Program

Sunday's program at the Mississippi River Festival will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will consist of the following selections: Tchaikovsky Program—Prelude, Polonaise, Waltz and Letter Scene from "Eugene Onegin," Symphony No. 5.

A. P. Green Firebrick Vital to Moon Launch

A. P. Green firebrick, accustomed to controlling fire in industrial furnaces, have experienced for the sixth time in two years the scorching flames necessary to launch a manned vehicle into space orbit.

This time culminated by man's first walk upon the lunar surface.

The A. P. Green Refractories Co. has an office in Granite City.

When Saturn V, the world's largest and the most powerful rocket ever, blasted off from NASA's John F. Kennedy Space Center yesterday, A. P. Green refractories were there protecting the launching pad from the rocket's intense heat—strong enough to melt steel.

During the last eight years, the Green company has furnished and installed all of the refractories used in new launch complexes at Cape Kennedy and the Kennedy Space Center. Three years ago, the millionth A. P. Green brick was hammered into place on a Cape area launching base.

Every time a Saturn rocket is launched, it takes off from an A. P. Green-lined launching base. Six Saturn V rockets have lifted off from the Green-lined launch complex 39, Pads A and B.

Withstand 4000 Degrees As the five first-stage Saturn V engines ignited yesterday, Green's brick on Pad A—undergoing their fifth test—were bathed in 4000 degrees temperature, thrusting down on the pad at a velocity of 3000 miles per hour. Some steel factories use temperatures only up to a maximum of 3000 to 3500 degrees for processing steel.

Like Saturn V and its space-craft Apollo 11, Pad A at launch complex 39 is gigantic. The entire pad covers an area of a quarter of a mile square. A flame trench, 42 feet deep and 68 feet wide, serves to divert the flames away from the immediate area.

Sixty-five carloads of Green refractories, or slightly more than 400,000 brick were used on this one pad. Installation required seven months.

Completed in November 1965 by the construction subsidiary, A. P. Green Services, Pad A was one of two built for the powerful Saturn V. In 1968, the company received the Missouri Engineering Wonder Award for helping design and install materials for this pad.

During installation, the brick had to be laid in a precise pattern for maximum contact with the wall. A strong epoxy mortar was used to attain the best adhesion possible to prevent the tremendous pressure during blastoff from pulling the brick away from the wall.

Primary Costly Equipment Primary purpose of Green's refractories was to protect an underground two-story building filled with sophisticated electronic and data processing equipment.

The building was protected by a three-foot-thick wall of concrete, but without refractories, to shield the wall from the high temperatures, the concrete would have popped like popcorn.

Apollo/Saturn V stands 383 feet tall—the size of a 36-story building—compared to the 109 feet of the Gemini/Titan, Saturn V, with a thrust of 7,500,000 pounds, is the largest vehicle ever launched.

The entire structure weighs over 3000 tons. A good-sized Navy destroyer weighs approximately 2200 tons.

Because of the size of Saturn V, it had to be assembled in a special building—big enough to house a skyscraper in—and then transported to the pad rather than a pre-assembled on the launch pad.

Built especially for Saturn V, the vehicle assembly building towers 526 feet and has four doors each 45 stories high. This is the largest building in cubic volume ever built.

3 Dow Workers' Cars Damaged

Three autos, driven by employees of Dow Chemical Co., were damaged by rocks or bottles thrown from College street near the Fox Brothers plants, according to reports to Madison police at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday.

The vandalism was reported by Steve Segedy, 2912 Warren avenue, who reported the back window on the left side of his 1957 model auto was broken by a rock; Glen Bigham, 2653 East 24th street, who said a rock hit the door of his 1963 model auto on the right side, and Leonard E. Soehle, Collinsville, who said the top of his 1964 model car was struck by a rock.

Bigham reported that a bottle also was thrown at his car, but did not strike the auto. None of the drivers was able to see the vandals, they told police.

At Venice, Tim Bennett, 1124 Calhoun street, reported at 11:05 p.m. Monday that the back window was broken out of his 1966 model car by a rock while the car was parked at his home.

PRaises School Board AND POLICE IN MADISON

To the Editor:

I wonder who the businessman thinks he is to talk about the city of Madison the way he has (July 10 issue)?

First of all, he comes to Madison about 9 a.m. and, if we're lucky, he stays until about 8 p.m.

Then he gets into his car and leaves Madison for the day. This is about when the city of Madison starts to roll.

He has no business condemning the school board of Madison. They, like all other school boards all over the country, are having problems and, I think, will overcome them in the right way.

What he knows about black and white people getting along, about the school board and the police department you could put in a one-pound bag of gravel.

He says the chief of police is beyond retirement age. This is true, but he did not go to an FBI school or a training school to become a chief of police. He gained this knowledge to be chief by being a policeman.

The businessman praised Barney Fraundorfer, former chief of police. I will grant you this man was a great policeman.

He was liked by many people in Madison, but where did he start from? Not from the FBI or a school for new chiefs of police, but right from the police department.

He was brought up from the rank of patrolman to be chief of police. And he did a wonderful job.

But the businessman says we have a fair police department. Well, I would put them up against any department in the state of Illinois.

They can't please everybody in town because they have a chief to obey and a rough job to perform which they do well if they care to check their records.

The businessman, of all people, should talk about them after they watch his store all night, take him to the bank every day, open the door and take his clean-up man home, and many other errands.

He should take time out and pat each one of them on the back for a job well done.

How many times has his store been burglarized at night while he sleeps in his home in Granite City? How many times has the store been held up?

Answer: It's been so long no one can remember.

I don't always get along with the Madison police department, but when I need them they're always around to help, whatever the situation may be.

I noticed in his speech he was very careful not to step on Mayor Maerz or Chief Patia's toes. This is what you call good politics—step on the little guys but don't hurt the big guys.

I hope he will think of what people in Madison are doing for him. He has not been successful just because he has a store in Madison. A lot of the people he has criticized used to be his customers. He called us racists but lives in a $400,000 home.

SOME CITY GUN DEALER LICENSE AN INJUSTICE

To the Editor:

I am writing in reference to the July 10 article in the Press-

Record pertaining to the proposed licensing fee of $300 for gun dealers (placed on first reading by the Granite City Council).

To begin, I want to know that I am not a gun dealer—simply a concerned citizen and sportsman.

I feel gun dealers are being done an injustice because they are already required to be licensed by the federal government.

Just because this type of resolution was adopted in the city of Chicago, certainly does not make it necessary in Granite City.

Chicago also adopted a resolution and made it a law that all firearms owners would be required to register all firearms by serial number, plus a fee for each one.

I ask the aldermen who are in favor of this law, if this will be the next step in Granite City.

I feel that any individual wishing to purchase a gun with the intent of committing a crime would certainly not go to an authorized dealer.

I now ask if this is a way to increase revenue? Why not levy such a license against all businesses in Granite City, regardless of their type of business?

This certainly would not be an increase in revenue for the city. If the aldermen who are in favor of such unfair licensing laws are so intent to have these licensing fees, why not establish such an extravagant licensing fee simply to become an alderman?

Where do we draw the line and stop trying to penalize responsible citizens and dealers for owning and enjoying firearms?

ITH OF JULY GOOD WILL

To the Editor:

May I take this opportunity to express to you on behalf of the Lions club of Madison, Ill., our most grateful appreciation for your most gracious help in our recent 4th of July fireworks display held in conjunction with the city's annual 4th of July celebration, sponsored jointly by the Lions and Amvets organizations of Madison.

It is a splendid feeling to live in an area such as ours, where such manifestations of good will are around to help, whatever the situation may be.

THINKS THERE ARE ENOUGH STATE PARKS

To the Editor:

When the governor considers the Horseshoe Lake bills for development of a state park, I would like to urge him not to sign these bills into law. This particular area, Nameoki township has a very bad drainage problem which must be solved and any tax money spent would be better used to alleviate this problem.

There is now a state park within 45 minutes' drive from Granite City, and another one is unnecessary.

Local Public Eager For a Full Drainage Solution; Government Leadership Vital

Comprehensive drainage relief failed to attract enough public backing here in 1967—a dry year. Almost any kind of responsible sewer program would receive generous voter support, this year—one of the wettest in decades.

Whether specific plans can jell fast enough to ride the crest of public opinion is the question uppermost in the minds of many officials and citizens.

Certainly, conditions here are bad enough to justify intense federal and state as well as local interest. The possibility of further financial grants to augment local-level fees and taxes ought to be investigated immediately.

Meeting because the Granite City mayor and Nameoki township supervisor is being arranged, reflecting the close link between drainage problems in incorporated and unincorporated areas. For example, the Cloverview in the city and New Haven in the township normally drain into Doherty Slough, which is overflowing into streets, yards and basements.

Foul odor, health hazards and driving and walking inconvenience plague these and other areas, including the Breckenridge lane vicinity, Pontoon Beach, Mitchell and numerous other points in Chouteau and Nameoki townships and Granite City. It is a tragic, senseless situation that cries out for a remedy.

Those who practice "politics as usual" too often in the past have gotten sufficiently involved, negatively or positively, to tip the scales toward inaction. Taxpayers weary of Granite City factionalism would approve only a partial solution two years ago. Lack of confidence in the approach that was to be used dented a Nameoki township sewer plan in the mid-1960s.

We urgently plead for everyone to pull together to lead the Quad-Cities out of the mess that already existed and that has become so painfully apparent in 1969 due to the unusually heavy rain.

Granite City council members and Nameoki township auditors ought to join in the planning along with the mayor and supervisor. Pontoon Beach officials are interested and should be included. So should the Mitchell area, where the water district already has devoted considerable engineering effort to the development of a stormwater drainage proposal.

Perhaps Horseshoe Lake, Long Lake and various ponds and sloughs can continue to figure in some of the planning, but we have a strong feeling that the Mississippi River offers the ultimate and best answer. As long as the levees are tall and strong, water pumped into the river can be forgotten; all the other systems involve headaches during rainy periods such as these.

Something should be, must be done. There is no question but that Quad-Cities are ready to shoulder their share of the cost, despite the rising taxes taking place in their local and state taxes.

Is local governmental and citizen leadership equal to the task?

An impression gleaned from a 1969 Asian study tour is that "Yankee go home" signs are unlikely to be posted there.

Presented by America in the Far East is welcomed in the knowledge that it has few if any strings attached. If we were to desert their region, Southeast Asia's believe, Communist China would move in—to stay.

Even though Russia has perfected nuclear weapons and China has not, it is the latter that is feared by its fellow Oriental.

In May, when 47 members of the International Conference of Weekly Newspaper Editors met in Nationalist China (Taiwan), a government policy statement in the Peking People's Daily assailed the U. S. for "on the one hand talking loudly about so-called peaceful coexistence and on the other hand persisting in continuing to occupy China's territory of Taiwan."

The statement alleged that President Nixon is plotting a "new military alliance" with Japan as its backbone, to replace the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) and added that Red Chinese are determined to liberate their sacred territory of Taiwan.

There is no confusion among our friends in the Far East over the fact that both Communist China and Russia have as their goal "peace" as such but would liberate by force when the time is ripe.

The Reds take "two steps forward and one step back" in the Party Differences in Executive Branch May Still Prove Beneficial To Public

Can Governor Ogilvie, Republican, and Lieutenant Governor Simon, Democrat, get along during their 1968-72 term? The 1969 General Assembly session upset their initially friendly relationship but perhaps not beyond repair.

One fact which the No. 2 official now concedes is that he cannot suffer veto bills which he happens to oppose. As presiding officer of the Illinois Senate, he declined to certify that it had passed the highway trust fund legislation under which bonds are to be issued for road construction. He later decided the law gave him no choice but to sign it.

Regardless of the merits of this particular measure, it would be chaotic for the state to have not only two chief executives deciding whether Assembly decisions should be approved or rejected. It does not seem likely that such an unwarranted assumption of authority by the lieutenant governor will recur.

Illinois revenue deliberations ended in somewhat of a standoff between the two. The governor criticized as "illegal, unworkable, insufficient and irresponsible" a Simon compromise proposal for an 8% tax on the amount of federal income tax paid by corporations and individuals. The lieutenant governor said such comments about him were abrupt and unfair, adding that Ogilvie at that time had not yet provided the leadership to guide Illinois through the fiscal uncertainty that plagued it in June.

The tax on a tax did not materialize. But Ogilvie in order to avoid passage of a direct income tax had to abandon his 45-4% and 3%-3% plans and accept a 2½-4% differential in individual and business tax rates, the kind of difference Simon had been advocating for some time.

Is it important that the two "get along"? They seem to think so, judging by their early agreement that Ogilvie would not have to worry about surprise appointments, firing and veto while he was out of the state, and that Simon would not lose funds for a staff of reasonable size.

We see the differences that have developed as healthy, as long they avoid the kind of warfare that would destroy operating efficiency in the executive branch. Their situation is unique in Illinois history, but it is entirely possible that it will work out to the benefit of the public.

Modern children have a hard time bringing their parents up-to-date.

Scientific State Approach to Police Needs

As Illinois Attorney General Scott says, this state may be able to have the best-trained law enforcement officers anywhere, thanks to legislative support for a college of police science, law enforcement and corrections. It is expected that substantial federal funds can be applied to establishing the school.

Emphasis is to be placed on psychology, human relations and preventive crime control as well as more traditional investigative and enforcement procedures.

Despite increased understanding of human nature and motivation, society probably will reach a point where it cannot afford to be strong and enforcement staffs. But it is important that they keep pace with changing circumstances and the latest technical developments in their field, and the proposed college could go a long way toward making this possible.

We recall when harried doctors began declining new patients. Now some of the busier air-conditioning repairmen here are turning down all but their regular customers.

Both SEATO Secretary General Josep Vargas and Philippine Foreign Secretary Carlos P. Romulo called for the alliance to become more active in political and cultural fields, and was decided to create a "youth corps," modeled on its American counterpart, and a "University of Southeast Asia."

Although it will continue to exist only once a year, at Manila in 1970, the council will seek to develop increasingly a political forum for exchange of ideas between member governments.

America's allies in Vietnam—South Korea, Thailand, Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines—expressed the gathering to discuss the outlook in Vietnam.

They also reviewed conditions in Laos and Thailand, and Secretary of State for Political Affairs, simultaneously outlined an American policy of "engagement without patronism" toward Asian nations of the Pacific region in forming their own groups for political, economic and security cooperation.

Addressing the Pacific Basin and Economic Cooperation Council meeting, Secretary of State Johnson said, "While U. S. interests rest essentially on the same and our commitments firm, we must recognize that there is an understanding of the American people."

"They will be cautious about undertaking new commitments. They are becoming somewhat impatient with carrying what many consider to be a disproportionate share of the burden of security and economic assistance abroad. They are asking more and more frequently what other countries are doing to help themselves and each other to share these burdens."

"In the future, I believe the U. S. government will encourage, but not foster directly, the growth of political and economic links among Pacific Basin nations."

"The idea would be a community of the free states of Asia cooperating together in the common interests in the political and economic security fields."

He said the American role in the development pattern "is to contribute as requested by the countries of the area to the establishment of a peaceful community of nations. We recognize that to develop this kind of a community they have to have security."

He said he is sure that the U. S. will "honor our security commitments with greater and greater efforts of the countries themselves, so that the productive work of economic development and social progress can proceed with confidence."

"Obviously, cooperation in the security field will come somewhat more slowly, and with greater difficulty than it has already come in the political and economic fields. However, I feel that it will come—although it is not possible at this time to predict the forms and the way it will take."

State Income Tax Approaching, Accurate Exemptions Important

(Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois)

Taxpayers will feel the effect of the new state income tax for the first time when they receive their first paychecks after July 31.

Effective Aug. 1, 1969, every employer maintaining an office or transacting business in Illinois must also deduct and withhold federal income tax on compensation paid in Illinois to an individual—must also deduct and withhold an amount equal to 2½% of the compensation for state income tax purposes, after subtracting the proper withholding exemption.

Withholding exemptions are allowed employees under the new act (S. B. 1150) equal to the amount of the number of withholding exemptions the employee is entitled to under the federal act.

If an employee is not allowed an amount for the kind of deductions (itemized or otherwise) under the Illinois law that he is allowed under the federal act, employers will be required to set up additional payroll records as of Aug. 1 because they will have certain additional duties.

In addition to withholding from the employee, they must pay such withheld taxes to the Illinois Department of Revenue at a designated depository, on or before the 15th day of the second and third months of each calendar quarter, and on or before the last day of the month following the last month of each calendar quarter.

Estimated tax means the excess of the amount of tax estimated as they are due under the Illinois law over the amount estimated to be withheld or credited against the tax due.

As previously stated, under the Illinois act individual taxpayers are allowed neither a standard deduction nor itemized deductions as they are entitled under the federal law.

While an individual may deduct the state income tax in computing the federal tax, he must add back such amount in determining his Illinois base income.

Yardstick for a Good Place to Live

(Southern Illinois University Community Development Department)

Does your community measure up to the standards that make a city a pleasant place to live?

Is it attractive and convenient, with plenty of things that please, not annoy?

1. Most high school graduates stay in town.
2. Getting a loan on a sound business venture is easy.

35. A business section has a modern, prosperous look.
36. There's as much interest in local as national elections.
37. The tax rate is attractive to new industry.
38. There's a community council to guide town progress.
39. There's an active Parent-Teacher Association.
40. Firemen must take regular training courses.

Meanwhile, addressing SEATO delegates, Philippine Secretary Romulo urged that SEATO provide increased technical assistance in its region, particularly in administering land reform programs.

He asserted, "SEATO likewise should not be averse to the training and fielding of specialists in ideological matters. This could very well be seriously considered for counter-subversion measures."

"One of the shortcomings of SEATO, contrasting sharply with the group of nations making up NATO," Romulo said, "is the lack of the region of real Southeast Asian community of values and interests—a political community and a history of habitual cooperation. In short, our congenial weakness is our fragmentation."

"It is for this reason that member countries have never really given much weight to the alliance's ability to meet external and internal threats."

"This disaffection was also partly due to differing perceptions of the organization's relevance to members' interest, military or political."

"Thus, many more intended to shore up the crumbling structure may have to give emphasis to achieving some degree of political and moral consensus by a regular system of consultation and exchange of views, seminars, policy-setting agencies of government, with the active participation of the region's intellectual leaders."

Hodge Released From Probation By U. S. Court

Orville E. Hodge of Granite City, former state auditor, was released from his probation two years early in a hearing Monday in U. S. District Court in Chicago.

Hodge, who had served from 1950 to 1963 in the Illinois State Prison at Joliet for embezzlement of public funds while in office, sought release to more easily regain his license as a real estate agent. The license was first issued to him in 1926.

Judge Edwin A. Robson, in lengthy comments, noted that he had made complete restitution of the embezzled funds and had served six years of probation on federal income tax and mail charges.

The judge said that the amount embezzled had been quoted as being between $1 and $14 million, which he called erroneous as that $540,000 was in a trust account, in which Hodge was a trustee, and that account was never disturbed.

The judge said he granted the release because, "after analyzing the record, I feel that he has paid his debt to society. I don't see why this court should act as an instrument to deter this man from returning to society."

It was further noted that Hodge's conduct was thoroughly investigated by the probation division of the court, the FBI and postal inspectors, and "they had all concluded that he had conducted himself since his release from the penitentiary in an exemplary fashion."

Hodge recently appeared before the State Real Estate Commission of the Department of Registration & Education to request reinstatement of his license, and it was brought out in the hearing that while Hodge was a licensed real estate agent, there had never been anything to mar his record.

It was explained to the court by Hodge's attorney, Robert Heckenkamp, that if probation was shortened, he would have an opportunity to get the reinstatement.

Nameoki Twp. Revives Improvement Board for Drainage Projects

The Nameoki Township Board of Local Improvements—a governmental unit which has been defunct for many years—was reactivated by the town board Monday night as the first step in planning an area drainage improvement program designed to solve many of the township's critical flood problems in its more heavily populated sectors.

Acting on a suggestion by Supervisor Harry Briggs and legal advice by Township Atty. William Schooley, the board voted unanimously to revive the local improvements board as an operating agency and authorized Briggs to meet with Mayor Donald Partney of Granite City to discuss the possibility of a joint drainage program that also would aid the Cloverview area of Granite City. Illinois statutes permit establishment of local improvement boards to carry out projects financed by "special assessments" paid by persons who benefit from the improvement.

Membership of the board includes the supervisor, the three town auditors and the township highway commissioner. The system once was a popular method of financing improvement work, particularly street pavement and sidewalk construction, but has been in disuse for many years. Installation of drainage facilities in the New Haven (Angela drive) section of Nameoki township which has been plagued for several years by flood waters from Dobrey Slough, as well as in the Breckenridge lane-Division street-Garden lane sector of the township would be possible under the program, Briggs said, assuming that the proposal is "accepted by the people who are going to have to pay for it."

Briggs first placed the proposal before the town board in regular meeting Monday night when he told the board that he discussed area flood problems with Mayor Partney last Saturday, and that Partney had mentioned in that discussion the possibility of a combined city-township project to solve the drainage difficulties of the New Haven area in the township and the Cloverview area in the city.

The two areas are adjacent. Briggs explained. Stormwater drainage from Lynch avenue, Vosci avenue and other areas of the township empty into Dobrey Slough. When Dobrey Slough is flooded or at high level, water backs up into the Cloverview area of Granite City.

Joint Project Possible
"It is highly probable that we would work out a combined project with Granite City," Briggs said. That after he talked with Partney, he got in touch with Schooley to learn what steps might be taken to undertake a program for installation of drainage facilities to solve the problem.

Schooley then outlined to the board the method of operation of the Board of Local Improvements and said that while such a board had not operated for a long time, it could be revived to act as sponsoring agent for such a project.

He pointed out that the local improvements agency could use no direct tax funds on its projects, but must finance its work by assessing the residents who benefit from the particular project.

About 30 residents from various parts of the township that were flooded by last week's heavy rains attended Monday night's meeting and several expressed willingness to pay an "assessment" if it would mean "getting rid of the water."

To Meet Mayor
Following a board vote reviving the Board of Local Improvements, Briggs announced he would set up an immediate meeting with Mayor Partney to discuss the possibility of Granite City participation in the drainage program, since interest in draining the Dobrey Slough area is of mutual concern to both the township and Granite City.

John Bloodworth, Granite City realtor who attended the meeting, warned the officials that as long as they are planning to go into such a project they should determine what plans the state highway department has for draining Route 203 when it is improved and widened. Improvement of Route 203 (extension of Nameoki road) has been in the planning stage for several years and is expected to be included on the state's highway work schedule next year.

"When the new Route 203 goes in, the elevation will be raised and Maryville road also will be elevated possibly as much as three feet," Bloodworth said. "If you think you have a water problem now, you are really going to get water, then unless you see to it that the state does something about proper drainage."

"If you study the highway department plans, you will see that everything draining from Route 203 will go into Dobrey Slough."

Should Check Drainage
Bloodworth suggested also that Nameoki township officials would do well "to get Granite City in on this highway elevation of Route 203 and Maryville road to see just what kind of a drainage problem you are going to have."

Schooley pointed out that Interstate Route 270 near Mitchell has been responsible for serious drainage problems.

Thomas Staicoff, mayor of Pontoon Beach, who also attended the meeting Monday night, said that Long Lake is getting drainage "all the way from Mitchell" as a result of the state highway department's failure to provide adequate drainage for Route 270.

Briggs and Schooley said they would meet with state highway officials at French Village to check the Route 203 construction plans and discuss the drainage matter.

In a general discussion that ended the close of board business, Nameoki area residents voiced complaints concerning flood conditions.

UFO Sighting Reported By Granite City Couple

When a noise awakened him at 3:15 a.m. Wednesday, Wayne Hollis, 2013 Thirteenth street, got out of bed, went to the rear door and, thinking prowlers were about, stood in the darkened house looking out a window. He didn't see prowlers, but a bright, shiny saucer-shaped object hanging low in the sky, accompanied by a smaller size object.

"My husband jerked me out of bed, pushed me to a window facing east and told me to look out," Mrs. Betty Hollis told the Press-Record yesterday. The couple's son also was awakened by the noise and saw the object and the family stood and watched the two flying objects about 90 minutes, Mrs. Hollis said.

"I didn't believe too much in flying saucers until last night, but now I do," the local woman said. She reported the object was definitely shaped like a saucer and was bright and shiny. "It really glowed and

Break House Window

Luther Biggs, Route Four, Edwardsville, reported at 6:10 p.m. Tuesday that two persons who had been seen by neighbors in the rear yard of 3012 Denver street on two occasions Tuesday, apparently broke a rear window at the dwelling to gain entry. According to the initial report, nothing had been stolen.

Each student attends two different classes each weekday morning. This year, three new courses have been offered, making available a variety of 16 different courses.

The neighbor also noted that earlier this week, UFO sightings were reported in the Mattoon, Ill., area and persuaded the couple to relate their sighting to the Press-Record.

THE WICKED WITCH IS DEAD. The creative dramatics class in the summer enrichment program being held at Prather junior high school, is shown rehearsing a segment of the "Wizard of Oz."

School Enrichment Program Benefits 290 Talented Pupils

The summer enrichment program conducted at Prather junior high school for fourth through sixth graders, will end its fourth year of seven week sessions tomorrow.

Two hundred and ninety academically talented students from the public and parochial schools of Granite City are enrolled to learn for the sake of learning and not to gain advanced standing in the regular school programs.

Each student attends two different classes each weekday morning. This year, three new courses have been offered, making available a variety of 16 different courses.

The newly added courses are conversational Russian employing little written work, computer language using a precise computer-like method of studying English grammar structures and a folk guitar course.

Other offered courses are arts and crafts, band, creative dramatics, experimental science, German, the history of Illinois, imaginative writing, industrial arts, nature study, oceanography, prehistoric times, Spanish and novels.

The enrichment program is striving to involve the students in what they individually wish to do. While the enrollments are generally evenly spread, some of the statistics may be of interest.

Over a hundred students are learning a foreign language. Twenty youths are learning the fundamentals of playing the guitar and banjo. Over 35 are enrolled in the computer language course, and about 30 are working with metals and plastics in the industrial arts classes.

$22,383 Grant for Nursing Division At SIU-SW Campus

The Nursing Division at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus, has received a $22,383 grant to continue its undergraduate psychiatric nursing program.

Money for support of the program, in operation at SIU-SW since the spring of 1964, came from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Doris Edwards, new director, of the psychiatric nursing program, arrived at SIU-SW July 1 from Malcolm Phillips Hospital in St. Louis, where she was nursing education director. A native of St. Louis, Prof. Edwards received her diploma in nursing from Homer Phillips Hospital and earned her BS and MS degrees from the Washington University School of Nursing, with a specialty in psychiatry. Miss Edwards was a nursing instructor at Washington University before joining to Malcolm Bliss.

There are 137 nursing majors at SIU-SW, according to Prof. Edwards, and 37 of them will be taking courses this fall in psychiatric nursing. All nursing majors, she said, must have eight hours of credit in this field.

Purpose of the program is to integrate psychiatric concepts through the total nursing program. "It is important," Miss Edwards says, "for nurses to think about more than the physical needs of the patient—medicine, a clean bed, bath, etc. A good nurse is concerned with the patient's overall needs."

Facilities of hospitals in Alton, Wood River, East St. Louis, Granite City, Highland and St. Louis are among those being used for SIU-SW nursing students' clinical experience. "All of these agencies are enthusiastic and cooperating to provide better education for our nursing students," Prof. Edwards said.

Vocational Training Need Being Stressed

"The greatest unmet need in education today is in the area of vocational training," according to Sherwood Deans, director of the Illinois Board of Vocational Education and Rehabilitation.

Deans said at Southern Illinois University's Carbondale campus recently to teach a two-week course offered in the department of technical and industrial education of SIU's School of Technology. The course was entitled "A Solution for the Seventies: Vocational Education."

Deans said improved vocational and technical training in the secondary schools would help many of the problems of the present society. Training more people for jobs which would enable them to lead productive lives would help reduce prejudice and contribute much toward the welfare of society as a whole, he said.

There is a growing feeling, he continued, that money invested in long range vocational training programs will contribute much more to the betterment of society than that spent for welfare or public aid.

"The time to invest, he said, is early in the life of the indi-

Dress Code for GCHS Students Is Revised

The Granite City school board, adapting to changing clothing and hair styles, made another periodic revision of its high school dress code Monday night. Copies will be included in student handbooks for the 1969-70 school year.

Board members asked the administration to assure that the code is implemented uniformly, rather than differing between various home rooms.

GRANITE CITY REAL ESTATE

ONLY MEMBERS
OF THE G.C. BOARD OF REALTORS ARE LISTED ON THIS PAGE

An Open Letter To the General Public (Regarding the Sale of Your Home)

WHO WILL YOU CHOOSE "TODAY" TO SELL
YOUR HOME TOMORROW?
(The Most Important Transaction of Your Life)

Will you be a "RIVERBOAT GAMBLER" (taken from a quote by Chicago Title Co.) and choose a part-time real estate operator, who thinks so little of your home that he works at another job to make a living. Or a part time greenhorn salesman, with little or no professional knowhow. Of course he may be licensed, but remember this, you also need a license to drive a truck, sell hot dogs, or put on a medicine show.

Perhaps you will choose one of the "FAST BUCK BOYS" (an expression taken from one bitter letter or complaint). Yes the "FAST BUCK BOYS" will lead you thru green pastures, charm you with sweet smiles and big pats on the back. Yes, life will be one big bowl of cherries until you come to the closing of your deal. In fact you may wind up with a big paper profit (paper that is) but very little money, as one letter of complaint stated. When you ask what happened to all the goodies I was promised? Answer, "GONE WITH THE WIND."

Or finally you will choose NOT to take a "POT LUCK" (after all it's your money and you are entitled to the best) and select a "REALTOR." For more than 50 years "REALTORS" have earned a proud reputation, as the finest Real Estate Brokers in the land. They are recognized, for their professional knowhow, financial stability, integrity, and high standards of conduct, as absolute "TOPS" in their profession. And as such have elevated the profession of Real Estate to a very high level of respect and trust with the general public.

This very fact has created problems for so many good people who have written in to complain, "well he was a real estate man, so I thought he was O.K." We respectfully submit again that just any real estate operator is NOT a "REALTOR" and a "REALTOR" is NOT just any real estate operator.

NOTE: A "REALTOR" always gives good service. He does NOT "play games" with you and your home. He is devoted to serving you and you alone. He has no other job to distract him, because REAL ESTATE is his business and his life.

A.O. Smith Corp. Earnings Up 33.8% for 6 Months

A. O. Smith Corp. today reported its first half 1969 earnings increased 33.8% over the same period last year.

L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, reported earnings for the six months ended June 30, 1969, were $8,018,000, or $3.21 per share, compared to $5,991,000, or $2.41 per share, in the first half of 1968.

In the second quarter of 1969, A. O. Smith earned $4,153,000, or $1.66 per share, compared to $3,806,000, or $1.33 per share last year, Smith said.

Reported sales for the first half of 1969 are lower because of the transfer late last year of all line pipe manufacturing to the A. O. Smith Corp. of Texas, an affiliate, and the formation earlier this year of A. O. Smith-Industries Inc., another affiliate, to manufacture reinforced plastic and metal powder. Sales of affiliates are not consolidated in A. O. Smith's statements.

Smith also reported that the company was currently negotiating with Rotary Hoes Limited of the United Kingdom regarding international aspects of the A. O. Smith Harvester Products, Inc. business. These negotiations have not reached a conclusion, Smith said.

A. O. Smith is a widely diversified manufacturer of auto and truck frames, electric motors, electrical controls, meter systems, agricultural and bulk storage and handling systems, water heating equipment and other products.

12 Drivers Arrested By Police Radar Unit

Granite City police radar units, posted in the 1300 block of Edwardsville road early Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, issued 12 arrest tickets.

Charged with speeding Tuesday were Larry D. Helvey, 2433 Edwards street, Glen T. Bryant, East St. Louis, Johnny F. Marion, Brooklyn, William R. Strong, St. Belleville, and Richard S. Ward, East St. Louis, who was also booked for having no driver's license.

Booked at the same location yesterday were Jan J. Langenstein, New Adams, Karen E. Willis, 2605 E. 24th street, Howard Green, 2909 Rhodes street, Madison, Joseph J. Krystof, 83 Cambridge drive, Eugene E. Haddock, 1985 Market street, Madison, Michael P. Gulash, 1165 Meridian street, and Ronald C. Grywach, East St. Louis.

Man Makes Incident Remarks to Girl, 14

The father of a 14-year-old Granite City girl reported to police at 11 a.m. Tuesday that his daughter had been approached by a man, driving a late model auto, who made in decent remarks to the girl at Kate street and Jenden avenue.

The motorist, about 25 years old with long hair and sideburns, was driving a foreign-made car.

032,000, compared to $108,639,000 in 1968. Second quarter sales were $90,580,000, compared to $106,229,000 in the same period last year.

Smith said that although some economists were predicting a leveling of profits in the second half of 1969, the outlook was good for A. O. Smith for the remainder of the year.

"We believe 1969 will be our fifth consecutive year of increased profits," he said.

Good performance was reflected in by the 30.1% increase in the Electric Motor division, Consumer Products Division, A. O. Smith Harvester Products, Inc., a subsidiary, and the Automotive division, due to the fact that Automotive division operations were somewhat affected by strikes at several customer plants, Smith said.

Smith also reported that the company was currently negotiating with Rotary Hoes Limited of the United Kingdom regarding international aspects of the A. O. Smith Harvester Products, Inc. business. These negotiations have not reached a conclusion, Smith said.

A. O. Smith is a widely diversified manufacturer of auto and truck frames, electric motors, electrical controls, meter systems, agricultural and bulk storage and handling systems, water heating equipment and other products.

Choose pictures that please you and mix themes and variations as you like. Add a dramatic effect of depth with sconces and wall planters in a formal or informal arrangement to gain a feeling of warm beauty and atmosphere.

A scenic formal grouping provides an attractive contrast to a large center picture when flanked by related still life pictures on either side and rural scenes above. Creates a center of focus to enhance an entire room.

Here's just a few Ideas for creating Beautiful
Walls with these Pictures, Frames, Wall
Sconces & Bracket
Planters.

Your Imagination will Create More!

Look at the arrangements featured here. Note the many and varied ways you can hang and arrange pictures to highlight any area... accent any wall... dramatize any room. Use the ideas you see here as guidelines for your own imagination and creativity... to give your rooms a distinctive beauty that will make them a pleasure to live in, to entertain in, and to enjoy forever.

Take a look around your home now. See how many places, and how many ways you can put these lovely colorful pictures, beautifully framed, to enhance every room in your home.

A random arrangement of a variety of sizes, subjects and frame styles and colors creates a striking effect on a full wall from floor to ceiling. A great idea for narrow hallways to achieve a feeling of space.

By selecting and grouping subject matter, you can make your rooms say "fun and games," "quiet contemplation," or any mood you wish to create. At the same time you add a true decorator touch of distinction and beauty.

The most important thing to remember about choosing pictures and hanging them is this. Feel free to be your own art critic. Choose the pictures you like and admire and put them in the frames you like.

Then hang them singly or in groups formally or in random fashion, as they look best to you, simply because you like them "there." Today's interior decorators mix and match traditional paintings with modern impressionists... old world scenes with new world portraits, contrasting and complementary colors. Follow their lead—mix pictures and periods, colors and artists. The important thing is to satisfy yourself. When you do, you'll find that others too, will admire your selections and arrangements.

When you want to add an extra special touch, do it with wall sconces and bracket planters. It's like adding the frosting on the cake. It can be the final "delicious" note of perfection.

Now, as never before, is the time to get started. With the beautiful Art Gallery Masterpiece Reproductions on display in our store.

Create exciting drama with a variety of effects... both formal and informal groupings. Note the unusual "high" placement of the planter bracket and the use of planters and sconces to add dimension. Pictures add life to every room.

Dress up a "special interest" room such as a child's room, den, library, porch, etc. with pictures reflecting the theme and use of the room. Choose from the wide variety of prints and frames. You can be daring and different.

Utilize your furniture as "anchors" for formal or informal arrangements to achieve eye-catching interest that imparts a feeling of interest and a note of splendor to the entire room. Mix or match subjects, artists and frames as you like.
